Meeting draws 40

Youth Center maturing

by Jeff Nazzaro

The Friends of Wilmington Youth Center expanded their circle Monday night with their first official meeting, held upstairs in the Villanova Hall.

The Friends, who are working to reopen the Wilmington Youth Center in the basement of the hall sometime this April, numbered around 40 as they set to work organizing committees, updating progress and showing the facility to newcomers.

And the hot topic at the meeting was "rules" - namely, what age groups would be allowed to use the center and when. Initial talk last week had the age groups encompassing those in grades six through twelve. Monday there was discussion pointed towards perhaps only including grades six through nine. Nothing has been decided, and further debate will be taken up the Friends' Rules Committee, one of four such branches.

The rules committee will be chaired by Sid Tildsley with the charge of setting a purpose and philosophy for the center, after which, rules and directions on how to use those rules will be established.

There are also committees dealing with work, chaperones and donations.

The work committee, headed-up by Jack Holloway and Joe Langone, needs help in refurbishing the center itself. Volunteers who can clean, paint, lay carpet or pitch in any way would be appreciated.

Linda Scifo will organize the chaperones. This is perhaps the center's greatest need. A sentiment from a week ago was expressed that the original center, in operation from 1967 to 1975, folded largely because of a lack of parental supervision for youths.

Some 16 people in attendance Monday signed-up to be chaperones. Based on a scenario whereby five adults provided guidance every Friday and Saturday night, the current group of volunteers would have to be at the center at least two nights per month.

The Friends are shooting for at least 40 volunteer, a number that would give each chaperone one night a month at the center.

In addition to chaperones, there will be a Wilmington Police Officer - himself included - at the center at all times. He said auxiliary and full-time officers would for the most part donate their time.

The donations committee has already received quality bequests, including $3,500 from the Wilmington Police Association.

In addition to other cash donations, the Friends have received two couches - which were tested by some at Monday's meeting - and were working on getting a VCR.

Chris Neville, a Friends member and a sergeant with the Wilmington Police, has meanwhile procured donations of two air hockey tables, two Ping-Pong tables a pool table and 55 gallons of paint from Sears and Roebuck. And others have been talking with various vending companies about the free use of arcade-style video games.

Still, more is needed and, of course, always welcomed.

To pick-up where donations leave off, a fund-raising committee will

New Friend of Wilmington Youth Judy Sullivan signs-up Monday night to help out as a chaperone at the new Wilmington Youth Center. The center needs volunteers to chaperone on Friday and Saturday evenings once the center opens, as early as April 1 (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

School committee ponders four calendars

After a great deal of debate the school committee was unable to come to a decision regarding the 1995-96 school calendar. There were four options up for consideration. Two would mean school would begin after Labor Day (one would include traditional February and April vacations and one would have a one week vacation in March); the other two options would have school begin the last week in August and have the same considerations in regard to the vacations.

The largest number of responses, 463, to a survey which was distributed to parents and staff favored the option of a traditional after Labor Day opening with the vacations altered to a March vacation (option 3). Four hundred twenty-seven of the respondents voted for the after Labor Day start with traditional February and April vacations (option 1. Option 2, opening in August with traditional vacations, received 393 votes and option 4, opening in August with the vacation in March received 276.

The committee agreed that they should try to reach a decision so that parents would know what the calendar would be and plan accordingly. However, after much discussion, and many votes on the various options, and amendments to options, they could not come to an agreement.

Chairman Paul Palizzolo suggested they table the issue until the next meeting so they could have time to consider the options and the committee agreed on that.

Five Wilmington High School seniors will be participating in the New England Science Bowl on February 25. The team, consisting of Julie Gosse, Tim Murphy, Sueng Won Kim, Rob Pelletier, and Justin Yentile, will travel to Brown University in Providence, R.I. to compete against 31 other teams from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and New Hampshire.

The "tournament type competition," which is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy, involves "a series of pretty intense questions," according to teacher James Megyesy. He said the kids were notified on January 27 of their acceptance and since then they have been "digging their heels in" to prepare. They have formed a study team and have been studying related material.

Committee member Linda McMenimen asked if it would be set up in a "jeopardy type format." Megyesy said it would be "a little more involved," as the questions require more in-depth, analytical, answers.

Awards and prizes will be given to high scoring teams and those receiving the highest scores will then move on to take part in a national competition.

Superintendent Geraldine O'Donnell and the school committee offered their congratulations and best wishes to the students.

by Jeff Nazzaro
When details of the nearly four-year investigation into illegal acts within the Wilmington Water and Sewer Department were made public, and both Police Chief Bobby Stewart and Town Counsel Alan Altman recommended that the case be closed, it appeared as if it might.

At Monday night's board of selectmen meeting, however, Chairman Michael McCoy used the investigation as a platform for publicly airing his feelings, via a prepared statement, about two other board members, Selectmen Diane Allan and Gerald Duggan.

In the process, McCoy stated that Allan and Duggan alone comprised the "concerted effort to remove the safeguards which had been put in place to ensure the proper administration of the Water and Sewer Department" that Stewart wrote of in his Dec. 12 report to Town Manager Michael Cairra regarding the investigation.

"In my opinion, Selectmen Duggan and Allan are the concerted effort," McCoy said.

Stewart has made no such specific charge against Allan or Duggan. In fact, Stewart's comments refer to two incidents in June of 1993 "in which the water supply for the Town had been disrupted;" and to information received from confidential sources within the water and sewer department.

One of the above mentioned incidents the closing of a gate valve on Shawshen Avenue was established by police as a deliberate act. The information received stems from water and sewer employees disgruntled over the reorganization of the department by Cairra.

"Some employees were unhappy with the closer supervision and loss of overtime which resulted from the reorganization. Some employees had lost considerable income [since] their personal businesses of installing water hook-ups ... were prohibited," Stewart wrote.

At an employee meeting in April of 1993, "a former Water and Sewer Commissioner allegedly stated 'We're going to get rid of the three stooges and put this place back the way it used to be,'" according to Stewart's report.

Monday night, McCoy attempted to link Allan and Duggan firsthand to that attempt.

"Because of two individuals sitting up here trying to undo the proper safeguards put into place and tried to bring back the good old days, the issue, once over, is now back in the spotlight," McCoy stated.

Following the meeting, Selectman Robert Cain identified the so called "three stooges" Allan and Duggan were supposedly after as Cairra, Altman and DPW Superintendent Bob Palmer. But Stewart's report states an indication of "a concerted effort to discredit the D.P.W. Superintendent, and the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department."

Stewart further states that "The Police Department was of the opinion that attempts to put the Water and Sewer Department back the way it was would negate the conditions set by the District Attorney's Office and could result in criminal prosecutions."

McCoy, who charged that Allan and Duggan attempted to undo those safeguards, also told Duggan as part of his statement that "if prosecution took place, your brother [former Water and Sewer Superintendent Paul Duggan] would have forfeited his retirement benefits."

Paul Duggan has not been charged with any crime.

But McCoy drew not only from Stewart's report, but also from a response from Cairra to a 1993 subcommittee report on the department from Allan and Duggan.

The subcommittee, appointed by then Chairman Chester Bruce, stated as its purpose the answering of expressed concerns from "people" over the then "recent rate increase of 10.5 percent," as well as "questions regarding the operation of the Water Department now that it is consolidated with the Department of Public Works."

As a subcommittee, Allan and Duggan concluded "We can see no reason why the Water and Sewer Department has to be part of the Dept. of Public Works."

McCoy quoted this line in his statement to help illustrate his charges against Allan and Duggan.

Cairra thundered back at the subcommittee report Oct. 26, 1993, and in his own conclusion stated that "The operation of the Water and Sewer Department is more open, more honest and in my judgment more financially and operationally ef-likely be formed. The Friends got a jump on that aspect of things Saturday night, holding a youth dance upstairs at the hall. The dance - which included a tour of the future Wilmington Youth Center that "gave them a little insight into what they could look forward to," a Friend said - attracted close to 100 town teens and produced some $200 for the Friends - as well as a bit of nostalgia.

The Friends, upon completion of the center, are planning an open house for adults, and maybe even a "Remember when?" dance featuring sounds from the old center's leftover eight track tape collection, highlights of which include Janis Joplin's "Pearl" and the Rolling Stones' "Let it Bleed," trickling right on down to "Sonny and Cher Live."

So keep the word "audio" in mind when considering donations for the center; but remember, all the Beastie Boys CDs in the world won't keep the center jammin' without plenty of much-needed parental supervision.

To volunteer to chaperone at the center, call Linda Scifo 658-2717; 694-9351 is the number to arrange a donation of furniture, materials or money; those wishing to contribute to the rules committee can give Sid Tildsley a ring at 658-0867; and Jack Holloway (657-8685) and Joe Langone (658-7188) can be reached to donate work time.

McCoy picks up water gauntlet

ticient today than it was when I became Town Manager. I have no intention of abrogating my authority and responsibility as Town Manager by succumbing to the special interests of those individuals who long for "the good old days."

McCoy also charged Allan and Duggan with attempting to cover up alleged wrongdoings in the department he connected with Allan's husband, George, who sat on the board of water and sewer commissioners from 1975 until 1988, and Paul Duggan. George Allan has not been implicated in any way in any report connected to the water and sewer investigation.

"Not only in my opinion did I think you both try to cover this up, what you, Mrs. Allan and you, Mr. Duggan also tried to do was that of a coup attempt," McCoy said. "Not only did you want Mike Cairra out as Town Manager, you wanted to bring back the old generals to position. I think what you both did stinks." McCoy's statement reads.

In November of 1993, Allan and Duggan both abstained from voting to reappoint Cairra Allan said at that time and again this week that she and Duggan favored a formal "reevaluation process" of the town manager.

McCoy ended his statement by unleashing a harsh personal attack against Duggan.

"I know you're running for reelection and how can you look at those people in the eye and say "reelget me"? What you're saying is it's OK to steal. Well anyone who endorses you endorses the idea to steal. And that's what bothers me relative to this thing," McCoy said.

Duggan issued a brief response to McCoy's statement, later declining further comment.

"The word joke was mentioned and I think that's enough to say about the whole thing," Duggan said.

But Allan was more effusive and promised to read a prepared response at the next board meeting, scheduled for Feb. 27. Allan called McCoy a liar and said his statement is the product of vendetta.

"That's what this is all about, your liquor license not getting approved and that's my opinion of what this is really all about: a way to get back at someone through a political vendetta," Allan retorted. It just goes on and on and on and on. Again, most of your statements are lies."

Allan and Duggan voted against McCoy's bid for a liquor license for his Lowell Street restaurant last July after hearing a negative recommendation from the board of health. Selectmen Cain, who acted as chairman, and Bruce voted in favor, while McCoy did not participate because of the inherent conflict.

Minutemen to hold 17th annual ball

The Wilmington Minutemen will be hosting their 17th annual colonial ball on the 25th of February. If you would like to meet some of the men and women who parade down the streets of New England in funny clothes and carrying muskets, this is your chance.

They will be hosting colonial reenactors from all over New England. In addition to the colonials representatives of His Majesty's finest as well as a few Native Americans will be there, all in authentic 17th century clothing. Guests who are not of the "colonial persuasion" will be welcome to wear contemporary clothing. Dinner consisting of steamship roast beef with all the trimmings starts at 7:00. Cocktails will precede. The entire affair will be held at the usual place, The Wilmington Sons of Italy Hall on Ballardvale St., Wilmington. Tickets are still available by calling 657-0209. Prices are $17.50 per person, but hurry all tickets must be purchased by Feb 21st.

Science Bowl coming

The third annual New England Science Bowl takes place at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 25 in room 166 of the Barus-Holley Center for Engineering on the campus of Brown University in Providence.

Cambridge Technology Partners, ParaComp, Inc., Dr. Janet Baker, the Brown University Division of Engineering and the New England office of the U.S. Department of Energy are sponsoring the competition to celebrate excellence in science education and to honor high school science champions.

The 32 competing high schools include Tewksbury and Wilmington.

Last Year's competition was held at MIT, and the winner, New England's Newton North High School, went on to win third place in the 52 team National Science Bowl.

The competition is open to the public. To volunteer for the New England Regional Science Bowl, call Devereau Adams at 617-565-9709.

WHS Students of Month

Tricia Williams and Seung Won Kim have been named January Students of the Month at Wilmington High School.

Tricia Williams

Tricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams. She has been a student secretary at the high school main office for two years. Her extra curricular activity is dancing. She has been a dancer for nine years. She is employed part time at Bob's Department Store in Billerica.

Tricia is planning to become a cosmetologist.

Seung Won Kim

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Soon Ho Kim is currently a co-captain of winter track. He has been a varsity member of spring track since freshman year and ran cross country.

He contributes to the school newspaper and Bread and Roses. He volunteers for Winchester Hospital and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Seung Won plans to major in biochemistry, biophysics or biology.

Eric Farrell and Brianna Daisy were runner-up and champion (respectively) at Wilmington's West Intermediate School spelling bee. Brianna took first place with her word, "Peony" Eric took second with "Fungicide". They will represent the school in April at the "Lowell Sun" spelling bee.

Explore project at Shaw Tech

Students will try out, hands on, the tools and skills used in such fields as telecommunications/computer applications, graphic arts, drafting, culinary arts, cosmetology, electrical/electronics and carpentry during "Project Explore," a career search program offered by Shawsheen Tech.

Sixth, seventh and eighth graders from Wilmington and Tewksbury are eligible for the session that runs from March 7 to April 12 two afternoons a week. Application deadline is March 1; forms can be obtained from Mark Small at the Tech or at middle schools including North and West Intermediates schools in Wilmington, and John W. Wynn Middle School in Tewksbury.

Dewing School notes

February events

The Southwick Animal Farm Zoo Show will be on site Feb. 17 for three shows scheduled for 9:15 and 10:15 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The students will be able to observe first hand at least six animals that will be present, discuss how zoos contribute to the survival of these animals, and what responsibilities are involved in keeping wild animals as pets.

On the 21st, the fifth grade will be kicking off their Easter candy fundraiser. All fifth grade students will be selling Geoffrey B. chocolates, nuts, dried fruit and various Easter/Mother's Day novelties for those who don't have a sweet tooth. All proceeds from this fundraiser will go toward the year end activities scheduled for the soon to be graduates.

WHO'S PAYING TAXES?

Agreed, that every individual feels that he or she is paying too much in taxes, but where's the money actually coming from? Here's the breakdown, from IRS data on 1992 personal returns. Their figures are based on the total of 1040s, whether filed by singles or couples, and reflect adjusted gross income. AGI does not include interest on tax-exempt instruments, the untaxed portion of Social Security benefits, payoffs to IRAs, Keoghs, 401(k) or similar retirement vehicles nor other above-the-line adjustments to income.

Taxpayers with AGI of $75,000 or more - the top 7 percent of filers - paid 51 percent of the total personal income tax for the year, kicking in some $242 billion.

In the more rarified strata, 3.3 percent of returns indicated an AGI of $100,000 or more for 1992. Those filers paid about 40 percent of the total personal income tax, or some $191 billion. Those with incomes over $200,000 the top one percent paid more than $123 billion.

Healthy eats at Shaw Tech

Those who thought dining out and healthy meals were separate entities, should think again! Beginning Thurs., March 2, Shawsheen Tech will offer a nutritional dinner series, prepared and served by students in the nutritional cuisine adult evening class.

Four dinners will be offered Thursday nights with appetizers at six and dinner at six-thirty. "There will be a healthy selection of appetizers, salads, entrees and desserts," notes chef/instructor Joe Williams, who is initiating the series.

Tickets are $12 each and can be purchased in advance by calling Williams at 508-667-2111, ext. 124.

Letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

After following the last several weeks of coach bashing, I have come to a few conclusions concerning how we got to all this. Tewksbury football at the freshman level has a feeder program which is known as Tewksbury Youth Football. Without rehashing history, this program was initiated when we were kicked out of the National Pop Warner program in 1985. The youth program's purpose is to teach and mold Tewksbury football players into athletes who most likely will try to continue in the football program at the Freshman, JV, varsity levels by instructing them in fair play and skills that will be used at the next level.

As the athletes move to the freshman level, both they and their parents should realize that the "instructional/basic fundamental" training is done, and at the next level, the athlete will be expected to do the very best he can with the skills he has been taught in the youth program. As the progression continues, the sad fact is that some kids just won't be able to cut it. What I believe has happened is that parents have lost sight of the fact that at this point, the basic instructional environment is over, and at the next level, the athlete is expected to do the very best he can with the basic skills he has been taught in the youth program. If he isn't ready to earn his position on the team, he shouldn't be there, and if he isn't there because he wants to be, he's in the wrong place. As the athlete advances into a "next" stage, the competition becomes much stiffer and with the help of the coaching staff, he hones his skills to fit the scenario.

This raises the expectations of both the athletes and parents that this trend will continue through the freshman, JV, varsity progression. Although the feeder program develops some fine athletes, it gives some players (and their parents) an untrue measure of an individual's athletic ability where in fact, some of the graduates are not at a skill level that will be necessary to play "safely" at the more intense level. What may have looked like Superbowl material at the Youth level, just may not be. Wakeup folks! The transition from Youth to freshman to JV to varsity ball usually does, as it should, weed out those athletes who perhaps don't have the ability necessary to move up or those who are there and just going through the motions for mom and dad and possibly their peers. This is where we have to rely on the coaching staff to make sometimes difficult decisions. It's no longer a question of equal playing time, it's a question of being at readiness level for next week's contest with the ability to play the game safely.

Taking any coaching technique, action or comment out of context is, in my opinion, one of the most unfair things anyone can do. Coach DelGrosso has been known to me since 1986. He had tantrums on the sidelines then, too, but over the years, never have I seen him abuse an athlete. I'm pretty certain that some feelings have been hurt from time to time, but I as a parent, would rather see hurt feelings rather than a hurt player during a game.

Because of Coach DelGrosso's rather volcanic personality which I agree could be toned down a bit, he has unfortunately become a model scapegoat because he yells at an athlete, biffs a helmet and refuses to tell it like it isn't. If an athlete can't produce an he on the field safely, he won't be on the field. It's tough for an athlete to take criticism, to be on the receiving end, but you can be sure Coach DelGrosso does his best and more to prepare his athletes for their season and whoever their next opponent might be and to make a tough game as safe as possible. If an athlete isn't able to take the criticism, he shouldn't be there. A player won't play if it's felt he can't perform at his position, and coach will only expect from an athlete what he has proven he can do.

As for playing people hurt, it's just not true. Ask the players in question just how much pressure they got from coach as opposed to the pressure they put on themselves. Yes, Tewksbury pride got in the way for my kids, too. Both managed to play at times in their respective sports against our parental advice, but was that the coaches' fault? No! Most times it was because of their personal stubbornness.

How many accusers witnessed - actually were present - at what we're hearing about? I'm sure not many. In my opinion, Coach DelGrosso should be encouraged to continue as head football coach. Much of this is hearsay, and because it's taken out of context, it is taken not as it was meant at the time it was said.

Talk about fairness? Let's be done with all this and start to be fair to Coach DelGrosso and his staff and the athletes. Parents, stop to take a good look at your son. Why is he playing and who is he really playing for? Did he confidentially talk with you after a particularly tough day when he didn't cut it, was spoken to and was mad at coach? Don't confuse the real issues here with any hidden agendas there may be.

lastly, I recommend you rent the video Rudy. Watch it and open your ears! That's what it's all about.

Dear Larz:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude to the Town of Tewksbury's Public Works Administrator Mr. William Burris and his department. During the snow storm of Saturday, Feb. 4, 1995, a snow plow ripped my mailbox from its post, severely damaging it. The following Monday I called the town hall and Mr. Burris very politely told me it would be looked into the following morning.

The day after my call, I had a new and installed mailbox sitting where the old one had been.

I am new to the town and extremely delighted our public works are in such capable hands.

Thank you,

Robert M. Connolly

Start now!

It will be interesting to count the students attending classes in Tewksbury next week. It seems that although everyone else is on vacation, Tewksbury is making up a week which was missed back in December because of a job action on the part of the teachers. Many parents have planned their vacations, be it Disney or skiing, months in advance. What do you think they are going to do? Right! Johnny will be sick that week. Granted there are a lot of parents who will be sending their children to school, but a lot will be missing.

But what does it all mean? Suddenly in Massachusetts it has become fashionable for teachers to go on strike. The teachers have taken a page from the school bus drivers of Boston. Every three years they go on strike in the middle of August, just in time to mess up the school year.

Of course the teachers union has a right to strike. The school committee has the obligation to negotiate a contract in the best interest of the town, but shouldn't they both be trying to do this in a timely fashion? August 31, 1996 will we go through this again? Perhaps they should start the negotiations now.

Tewksbury's Kittredge family of physicians

by Capt. Larz Neilson
 John Kittredge, who was possibly an indentured servant, arrived in Billerica in 1660. Kittredge called John Parker "his master." One can infer his status as an indentured servant from this. Billerica at that time was about twice as large as it is today, in 1995.

All of the present day Tewksbury and large parts of Carlisle and Bedford were a part of that town.

There were five men named Parker who arrived in Billerica at about the same time, seemingly arriving through Woburn. John Parker was one of the foremost of the settlers in Billerica, being, among other things, the first town clerk. He became one of the largest property owners, in early Billerica.

The Kittredge family became well known, as physicians. Some physicians, probably of that family in later years spelled their name Kittredge.

John Kittredge received several grants of land. One, in the present day Tewksbury was near the Shawsheen River.

He married Mary Littlefield, probably of a Woburn family in 1664. There was a son, named John, who was better known as Doctor John, and he was the father of eight men, all of whom became physicians. Dr. John Kittredge lived until April 27, 1714.

In 1678 Harvard College asked for a contribution of money from the families of Billerica. The name Kittredge does not appear in the resulting list.

But the name does appear in 1688 with a contribution of three shilling sixpence. The collection was for Harvard College by the selectmen and Lt. Thompson, as "commissioner," for the college.

Billerica decided to build a new church in 1738, near the present site of the Civil War monument. The name Kittredge does not appear in any available report on that construction.

But, in 1733, the Kittredge name appears eleven times in a checklist for payment of the minister's rate. That rate was one of three tax rates in Billerica. Two hundred and forty men made contribution to the minister's rate. They were listed by Town Clerk Joshua Abbot. The Kittredge names were Lt. Daniel, Daniel Jr., Francis, James, James Jr., James III, Dr. John, John Jr., Joseph, Thomas and William Kittredge.

The first Dr. Kittredge died in 1714. He had lived on land which was easterly of Round Pond in Tewksbury, on land now a part of the property of St. William's Church. He was buried in the Shawsheen Cemetery, near the Shawsheen River.

The second Dr. John, son of the first, born in 1685 is also buried in that cemetery. He died in 1756, 72 years old.

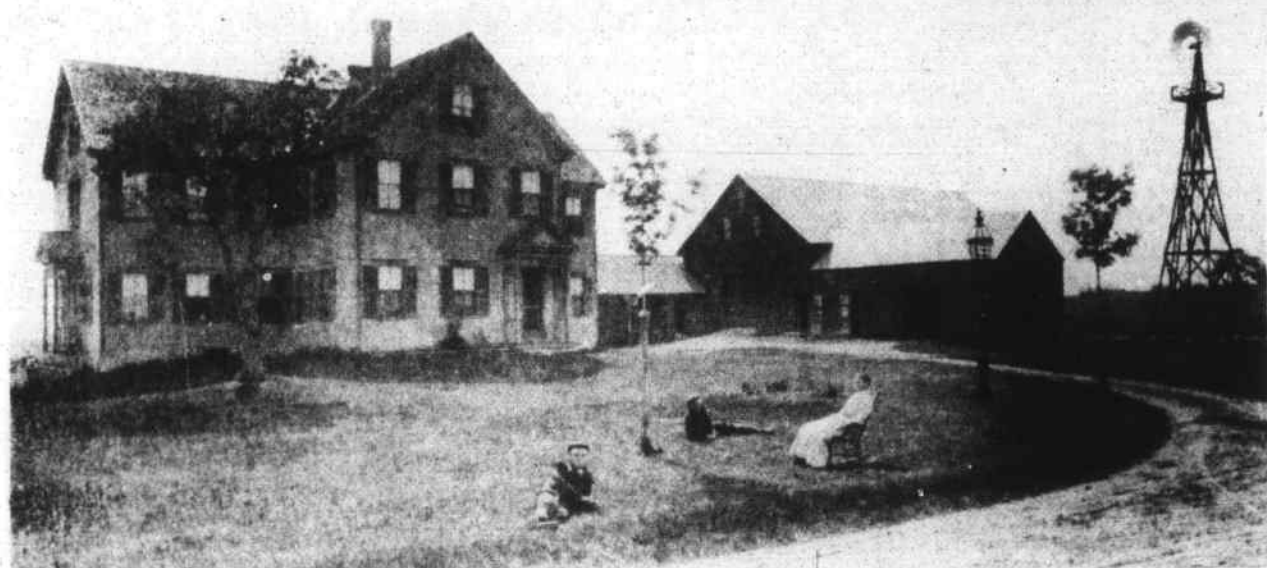

He was a physician in Tewksbury and Andover, the father of eight sons, all physicians. He and his wife Rebecca lived on a farm which was northerly from Tewksbury center.

Benjamin born in 1767 was in Exeter, N.H. John, born in 1771, served in Framingham. Theodore, born in 1775, was in Kittery, Maine. George, born in 1777, served in Epping, N.H. Charles born in 1779, was of Watertown Mass. Jacob, born in 1781, served in Billerica and Ohio. Henry, born in 1787, served in Tewksbury. Rufus, born in 1789, served in Portsmouth, N.H.

Benjamin, who became a physician in Exeter, N.H., or maybe another man of the same name, became the owner of a farm in Tewksbury which, in 1820 was chosen for the town farm. It was no accident. A committee of six men had been appointed to find a suitable place in which the Town of Tewksbury could keep its poor people. They were offered six sites. The committee chose the farm of the late Dr. Benjamin. That farm remained the Tewksbury Town Farm until sometime after 1920.

Dr. John and his eight physician sons were featured, in 1930, in a cartoon by Ripley, in his "Believe it or Not" series. All of Tewksbury, Mass.

But there were other persons, of that same family, living in Wilmington.

THE TOWN FARM

Asa Sheldon, prominent in Wilmington during the first half of the 19th century was treated by "Dr. Frank Kittredge" of Wilmington in 1809, when his leg was broken after a slip and fall, during which the wheel of a loaded wagon passed over that leg and smashed it. The bone was set by Dr. Frank.

About 10 days after the accident Dr. Kittredge told Asa that the leg would have to be amputated, or he would die within two days.

Asa told him that he would shoot any man who amputated his leg. The doctor told Asa "I'll cure you if I can."

He left, and returned within two hours with two physicians, one of whom was his father. They examined the leg of Asa, and said he would not live unless the broken part was cut off.

Asa took a drink of rum and then summoned Dr. Frank to his bedside. "Frank," he said, "no man shall cut off my leg while I have my senses. If I lose my senses and it is cut off, and I can find out who did it, I will shoot that man, let him be who he may."

Dr. Kittredge told Asa "I'll cure you if I can."

It took a long time, but Asa did recover, and did keep his leg.

Kittredge marriages in Wilmington start in 1754, when Tewksbury's Mary married Enoch Kendall. Daniel Kittredge of Hollis, N.H. married Esther Foster of Wilmington in 1800, and Ebenezer of Wilmington married Ruth Etting of Reading in 1829.

Henry R. Kittredge of Tewksbury married Hannah J. Buck of Wilmington in 1835, and Dr. Edmond F. Kittredge of Wilmington and Harriet C. Richardson, also of Wilmington were united in marriage in 1843.

All children of that name failed to survive for one year. None of the named adults died in Wilmington.

This photo of Dr. John Kittredge's grave stone was taken in 1930 in the Shawsheen Cemetery. He was the second Doctor Kittredge to live in what is now Tewksbury. He was born in 1684 and died in 1756

T.D. Waffle

283 Old Main St., Tewksbury
(508) 640-9610

T. D. Waffle... where "Breakfast is served all day with More!" And wait 'til you see the breakfasts! Their extensive menu includes waffles, eggs (cooked any style), omelettes, morning sandwiches, pancakes & French toast, and side orders. Try their "Fresh Fruit Waffle" with banana, kiwi, cantaloupe & strawberries, for $4.75. If you're really hungry, there's the "Tewksbury Redmen" - 3 eggs with sirloin tips and waffle - for $6.50.

As for the "More"... T. D. Waffle also offers lunch and dinner. For lunch, choose from soup, salads, and sandwiches. Dinners will bring back memories of home cooking - ziti, lasagna, roast beef or turkey dinner, ham & scalloped potatoes, liver & onions, meat loaf, and include daily specials - corned beef and cabbage on Monday, barbecued sirloin tips, fresh fish or fish and chips on Friday.

It's been only two years since owners Tom Seto ("T") and Dave Donovan ("D") opened T. D. Waffle. It's a family restaurant with a casual and comfortable atmosphere, and courteous, friendly service. Orders are prepared before you on an open grill, and are made with only the freshest ingredients. Even the orange juice comes from a "fresh squeezed OJ" machine. This waffle house is now selling 400-500 waffles each day. In fact, business has been so good that they have plans to open a second restaurant in Burlington.

T. D. Waffle is open Sunday-Thursday: 5:30am to 9pm; and Friday & Saturday: 5:30am to 10pm. They offer a senior citizen meal discount and a children's menu. Their full menu is available for take-out (call (508) 640-9619 or 640-0159 in advance). They're conveniently located at 283 Old Main Street, Tewksbury (off Route 495 on Route 38 East).

Summer Games of 2008

Imagine the Olympic Games, now picture them in Boston!

by Bill Conlon

The Olympic games! Can't you almost hear the music in your ear?

Picture it: A parade of athletes from around the world, marching in spectacular pageants, then joining in competition such as the high dive and gymnastics, pole vaulting and hurdles, the 500-meter sprint, and the marathon, all taking place in one of the world's great cities.

Most people can only dream of attending the Olympic games, of a trip to such far-off locales as Berlin or Barcelona, Seoul or L.A., Mexico City or Boston.

BOSTON? The Olympic games, THE Olympics, here in Boston?

Don't laugh. Bringing the Games to Boston may sound far-fetched at first, but the proposal is closer to reality than most people would ever dream.

There is a group making plans, lining up buildings and plotting out new construction, all in the hopes of attracting the Olympic summer games of 2008 to Boston.

Jack Green, a corporate attorney for Converse, recently outlined for the Tewksbury Rotary Club some of the plans being drawn up by the Boston Olympic Committee. A $2 million feasibility study has been completed for the committee, he said, and Boston was found to be an almost ideal site for the Olympics.

Boston needs only four buildings to have everything needed for the games: a 70,000 seat stadium, an aquatic events center, an equestrian center and a velodrome for bicycle racing. That's it, Green said.

The estimated cost of those four complexes is $290 million, Green said, but Massachusetts may reduce that amount by building a proposed "megaplex" in downtown Boston.

Green was very serious about the Boston Olympics, and he spoke for a group that is very serious about their proposal.

Green said that a "de-mountable" stadium is being considered, if the megaplex is not completed in time. The temporary stadium may be erected in downtown Boston, he said, then dismantled and donated to the International Olympic Committee when the games are over.

(It could be noted that the kayak events might come to Lowell if the Olympics do come to Boston, on the Concord River's rapids.)

As an added benefit, Green told the Rotarians, 17 of the 24 facilities are within a six-kilometer circle, so Boston could be the first "walking Olympics" since Montreal in 1976. Harvard University, MIT, the new Shawmut Center -- the list of sports facilities in Boston that could host the Summer Games goes on. There are 35,000 hotel rooms within a 45-minute drive of Boston, Green said, and another 6,000 rooms could be in place on cruise ships anchored in Boston harbor.

The hardest part of the proposal, Green said, will be to convince the U.S. Olympic Committee to bring the games to Boston. Atlanta will host the 1996 summer games, and both Indianapolis and Minneapolis are possible future U.S. sites for the Olympics. However, Green noted, the Boston area has something that is highly prized by the International Olympic Committee: the Arts.

Boston is renowned as a cultural and artistic center, he said, and the international committee seeks sites that allow different cultures to meet on an artistic as well as an athletic level. Also, Green said, Boston is among the top travel destinations in the world, so people the world over know where to find Boston.

Green showed the Rotary Club a brief videotape from the Boston Olympic Committee, narrated by New Englander Curt Gowdy, and featuring Liz Walker, Bob Vila, and Mike Eruzione, captain of the 1980 U.S. hockey team, among others. The tape touted the benefits and feasibility of holding the games in Boston, and the end credits were an impressive list of major business in New England, including Lotus, Converse, NYNEX, and others.

The only portion of the tape that drew a chuckle from the Rotarians was a mention that the third harbor tunnel and depressed central artery should be completed by 2008, to the benefit of travellers.

The Olympics? In Boston? Plans are already underway, very serious plans by a very serious group.

The Boston Olympics of 2008.

You'll be hearing more about the proposal, in the very near future.

Wilmington High School Art Dept. will be putting on a show at the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce Business Expo '95 to be held May 5th at the Shriner's Auditorium. The theme of the art display will be, "Looking to the Future". Holding some of the art which will be displayed are Debra Lindsey of Tri-State Bookkeeping, Marie Shack, Wilmington High School Art Director, Jeanette Tighe of Carlson Real Estate/Better Homes and Gardens, Debbie Todd of Best Western/The Lord Wakefield and Sonja DerManuelian of Sonja's Catering. They are all on the Expo committee.

Tarr announces changes to welfare reform legislation

Senator Bruce E. Tarr (R-Gloucester) of the First Essex and Middlesex District has successfully amended welfare reform legislation to maximize the efficiency and cost effectiveness of service delivery to the citizens of the Commonwealth. An advocate will be appointed to service as a liaison between citizens of the Commonwealth and the Secretaries of Health and Human Services, Education, Communities and Development and Public Safety of their designees. These groups will convene at intervals of not less than three months in order to review the provision of service and benefits to those in need of public assistance and or programs.

Tarr said "There are many concerns being expressed relative to the effective implementation of welfare reform. This vehicle should allow a sound dialogue to begin to ensure the success of reforms both present and future."

Tarr, who is in the process of conducting field hearings in Gloucester, Ipswich, Wilmington and Georgetown, said that such concerns have been raised in these hearings. He said that hopefully this legislative change will begin to address a wide range of issues.

Wilmington board watch

• Board of Selectmen meets on the 2nd and 4th Monday each month at 7:00 p.m., Town Hall Room 9. Next meeting: Monday, Feb. 27. The board opened their last meeting, Feb. 13, in executive session, entertaining a discussion of the Northeast Solid Waste Committee (NESWC) strategic plan. The public end of the meeting opened at around 7:30, with NESWC Executive Director Steven Rothstein and member John Merritt offering a presentation on a the community meeting for discussion of NESWC programs.... The board voted unanimously in favor of granting Constantine Karambelas a common victualer license to operate Andreas's Pizza, located on Main Street.... Rounding out the board's appointments, NYNEX's Catherine B. Frazer asked for and received (unanimously) permission for her company to install a conduit on Andover Street.... Following appointments, Chairman Michael McCoy read a prepared statement pertaining to Selectmen Diane Cairra and Gerald Duggan and the recently concluded investigation into the water and sewer department (story, page 1).... Communications highlights included a memorandum from Town Manager Michael Cairra and correspondence from Town Counsel Alan Altman regarding the recently initiated court action against the town by the Reading Municipal Light Department; RMLD is attempting to get a court order forcing the Town of Wilmington into collecting delinquent light bills through property tax liens.... The board also voted unanimously to issue a proclamation in honor of the 75th Anniversary of the League of Women Voters, started Feb. 14, 1920; Wilmington's chapter began operations in 1963.... Gave unanimous permission to the Wilmington Minuteman Company, Inc. to use Rotary Park from June 23-25 for the annual Liberty Pole Weekend, a parade held in defiance of King George the Third of England ... "to preserve the safety of the inhabitants of the Town and rid them of the danger of invasion by the dreaded Redcoats."

• The Planning Board meets on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday each month at 7:30 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9. Next meeting: Tuesday, Feb. 21. A public hearing to discuss zoning articles for Annual Town Meeting will be held by the planning board Tuesday, March 21 at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Hall Auditorium.

• Board of Assessors meets on the 2nd Thursday each month, at 9:00 a.m. in Town Hall Room 2. Next meeting: Thurs., March 9.

• Committee of Citizens with Disability meets on the 1st Thursday of each month, Town Hall Room 4. Next meeting: Thursday, March 2.

• Finance Committee next meets: Tuesday, Feb. 23, at 7:00 p.m. in Town Hall Room 9. Preliminary FY 96 budget in hand, the FinCom will look at "human services" expenditures; then, "community development" Feb. 28, "public safety" March 2, Public Buildings Department and Department of Public Works on March 7, "debt service," "unclassified" and "statutory charges" March 9 and education on March 14.

The finance committee has abandoned its schedule of meeting on the second Tuesday each month during the budgetary process and will meet instead Tuesdays and Thursdays.

• The Recreation Department holds meetings on the 1st Thursday each month at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Hall Recreation Office. Next meeting: Thursday, March 2. The department carries an open agenda for its monthly meetings, director Ron Swasey said.

• The Elder Affairs Commission meets on the third Tuesday each month at 1:30 at the Buzzell Senior Center. Next meeting: Tuesday, Feb. 21. During January's meeting, the commission voted to delete Article 7 of its bylaws, essentially cutting the position of "recording secretary" and using their clerk for that purpose.

• Board of Library Trustees meets on the third Tuesday of each month except July and August at 7:30 p.m. in the Bicentennial Room of the Memorial Library. Next meeting: Tuesday, Feb. 21.

• Board of Registrars meets on the 2nd Monday of each month from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. in Town Hall Room 12. Next meeting: Monday, March 13.

• By-Law Study Committee meets on the 1st Tuesday each month. Next meeting: Tuesday, March 7 at 7:00 p.m., Town Hall Room 12.

• Wilmington Housing Partnership meets on the 2nd Thursday each month at 7:30 p.m. in Room 9 of the Town Hall. Next meeting: Thursday, March 9.

• Recycling Advisory Committee meets on the 2nd Thursday each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Town Hall's Small Conference Room. Next meeting: Thursday, March 9.

• The Historical Commission meets on the 2nd Monday each month at 7:30 p.m. in Room 4 of the Town Hall. Next meeting: Monday, March 13. The commission is currently focused on finding a tenant and/or funds to repair the roof of the old West School on Shawsheen Avenue. Jimmy Carter's Habitat for Humanity organization has shown an interest; anticipated costs of the repair are $6,000.

• Board of Appeals meets on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday each month at 7:00 p.m. in Town Hall Room 4. Next meeting: Tuesday, Feb. 28.

• Wilmington Housing Authority meets on the first Tuesday each month at 7:00 p.m. at 41 Deming Way in the Community Hall or Deming Way Extension Hall. Next meeting: Tuesday, March 7.

• Conservation Commission meets on the 1st and 3rd Wednesday each month in Town Hall Room 9 at 7:00 p.m. Next meeting: Wednesday, Feb. 15 and then Wednesday, March 1. At their Feb. 15 meeting, the commission was scheduled to hold a public hearing to discuss a notice of intent from Marcy Realty Trust for a parcel on Mystic Avenue (Somerset Estates); and for a request for an amendment to an order of conditions for a Department of Environmental Protection file ... Three separate public meetings for requests for determinations of applicabilities for a parcel on Church Street, for a parcel on Main Street and for two parcels and parts of two more on Kansas Road .... Continue public hearings for notices of intent for Roosevelt Road by the Wilmington DPW, a White Pines Crossing sewer project on Everett Avenue and Broad Street, and for two lots on West Street by Theodora Trust.

• Access is Mandatory meets every Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus Hall. Next meeting: Tuesday, Feb. 21.

• The School Building Committee next meets Tuesday, Feb. 28 at 7:00 p.m. at the Roman House, located on Church Street. At their last meeting, Jan. 31, the committee heard reports from Superintendent of Schools Dr. Geraldine O'Donnell on the status of the school department budget, overcrowding in the schools and the reopening of the Boutwell School, in particular, what use will be made of the building. The committee will vote at its next meeting whether to recommend to the school committee that the Boutwell hold all the town's kindergarten's classes or grades one through four.

• The Wilmington School Committee next meets Wednesday, Feb. 22 at 7:00 in Town Hall Room 9. At their last meeting, Feb. 8, the committee tabled after a lengthy debate a discussion on the 1995-96 school calendar (story, page one), among other agenda items.

Gargan top twirler

Stacey Gargan of Tewksbury earned the title of Juvenile Advanced State Solo, Strut and Queen Champion at the Massachusetts State Baton Twirling Championships in November. More recently, Stacey was crowned Juvenile Miss Majorette of Massachusetts, and will be representing Massachusetts at the AYOP National Baton Championships at Notre Dame University, Indiana in July.

Stacey is the daughter of Bob and Robyn Gargan of Tewksbury and a fourth grade student at the Louise Davy Trahan School. She is the youngest member of the Suburban-Ette Twirl Team under the direction of Maureen and Kelly Dunn of Chelmsford.

Obituaries

Elsie Hopper formerly of Worcester

Elsie (Holland) Hopper, a resident of Chestnut Street, Wilmington, died February 8, 1995 at Winchester Hospital.

Born in Wallingford, Conn. 72 years ago, Mrs. Hopper was the widow of Charles Hopper, and had previously lived in Worcester. She was the sister of the late Frank Holland, also of Chestnut Street.

Funeral services, led by the Rev. Ron Grimley of Wilmington's First Baptist Church, were held at the Nichols Funeral Home Friday, Feb. 10. Burial followed in Wildwood Cemetery.

Thomas D. Kennison Viet Nam Veteran, at 43

Thomas D. Kennison, 43, of Wilmington, died February 8, 1995 at his residence.

Born in Newport, Vt., he was the son of the late Melvin and Phyllis Kennison of Brownington, Vt. He graduated from Wilmington High School and entered the U.S. Army during Vietnam. He was employed for several years as a computer repairman.

Mr. Kennison is survived by his wife Jan (Ward) Kennison and his daughter Laurie Kennison, both of Wilmington; his stepmother Phyllis Kennison of Brownington, Vt.; his brothers and sisters, William Kennison of Tewksbury, Robert Marrone of Irasburg, Vt., Richard Kennison of N.H., Marie Marrone of Lowell, Nancy Cluff of Lowell and Sheila Martin of Orleans, Vt. ## Ready, Willing, Enable!

What was it like, growing up with a disability in your own family? What's it like to be a couple when one of you has a disability? What can we learn from the experience of these "survivors?"

This new program from the Ready, Willing, Enable! series tackles these tough questions and more!

Together on camera for the first time, three couples in which one partner of each is disabled meet to discuss frankly the issues they have dealt with:

Alan Langer, RWE! host, who has multiple sclerosis - a degenerative condition that came on in mid life, and his wife, Rachel.

Katie Tryon, staff member at the Caption Center, whose profound hearing loss made her the only disabled member of her growing up family, and her husband, Bob.

Mike Scannell, RWE! reporter and WGBH staffer, born with cerebral palsy, and his wife, Judy. Each couple has a different story and different view of what life was like for them as a child - how they fell in love despite handicapping conditions, what challenges they face as a married couple.

This conversational program is both informative and inspirational, an important experience for the non-disabled viewers as well as those with a disability to take lessons from.

Ready, Willing, Enable! a co-production of Continental Cablevision, Inc. and the not-for-profit organization Ready, Willing, Enable, Inc. is seen locally on the following station and schedule: WCTV channel 30, Fridays at 2 and 6 p.m.

David Joaquim to serve with Teen Missions

David Joaquim of Wilmington has been accepted to serve with Teen Missions in Thailand during the summer of 1995. His team of 30 teenagers plus leaders will be filming an evangelistic story of a small village in Thailand.

David is an active member of WCTV, the community cable access television station in the town of Wilmington. The training and experience he has received at WCTV under the direction of Sam Schauer and Bob Bazydlo will be an asset to the work he will be doing in Thailand.

David's team will first attend boot camp for two weeks with 50 other mission teams for intensive training at the Teen Missions Primitive Jungle Camp in Florida. His full day will begin at 5:45 a.m. and will include instruction in evangelism, Bible study, construction, puppetry, film equipment, drama, physical work, and spiritual growth. Boot camp will climax with a candlelight commissioning service. By lighting their candles, the 1700 teens and 44 leaders will accept the challenge to take the light of the gospel to a lost world. David will then spend the next seven weeks in Thailand on the film site, working five and a half days each week. On Sundays, the team will share music, drama, puppet shows, and personal testimonies with the people of Thailand whose religion is 99 percent Buddhists.

David is scheduled to graduate from eighth grade at Wilmington's Abundant Life Christian School in June. His plans for September include attending the Shawsheen Valley Technical School where he will have the opportunity to be involved in the filming productions for the school's daily news programs.

If you are interested in supporting David's mission trip, please send your tax deductible check made out to "Teen Missions" (do not put Dave's name on the check) and mail to David Joaquim, 138 Andover St., Wilmington, MA 01887.

Fund established for Kayla Kenney

Kayla Kenney is a beautiful, bright and courageous little four year old who for the past 11 months has been battling leukemia. But the biggest battle is yet to come because chemotherapy is no longer working and Kayla is scheduled for a bone marrow transplant.

Unfortunately, Kayla's story is not unique. The next step is to spend three months, away from home and friends, in a clinic which specializes on bone marrow transplants. Although the emotional strain is devastating in itself, the financial burdens are overwhelming.

Kayla has many friends, family members and neighbors who have been supportive and continue to wonder how they can help. You may make a donation to the Kayla Kenney Fund. This will enable her mom and dad (Donna (De)Rossi) and Dan Kenney) and brother, Danny to be with her as much as possible through this critical time in her life.

Above all, continue to keep Kayla and her family in your prayers. Thank you all for your support and love.

Contributions may be sent to: The Kayla Kenney Fund c/o Woburn National Bank, Attn. Mary DiLorenzo, 355 Main St., Woburn, MA 01801.

Thank you, Roger. Members of the Reading Municipal Light Department's Board of Light Commission and the Citizens Advisory Board (CAB) recently convened to extend their appreciation to former CAB member Roger Gerry of Lynnfield. Roger, former Lynnfield Town Administrator, served as that community's representative to the advisory board since its founding in 1989. As a token of RMLD's appreciation, a meter lamp was presented to Roger and his wife Elizabeth during the recognition ceremony. Among those who extended their best wishes and appreciation to the Gerry's were (l-r) Roger's successor John Thomas, Lynnfield; CAB Secretary Linda Giles; Roger Lessard, Wilmington; Kenneth Mastrullo, Wilmington; John Lippitt, Reading; RMLD Board of Light Commission Chairman David Swyer; Roger and Elizabeth Gerry; and CAB Chairman Hartnell Bartlett, No. Reading.

Roger H. Gerry honored by Reading Light

The Board of Light Commissioners of the Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) recently honored Roger H. Gerry of Lynnfield as he retires from the RMLD's Citizens' Advisory Board (CAB). Mr. Gerry has been a member of the CAB since its founding in 1989 and is one of its charter members.

As Lynnfield's representative to the board, Mr. Gerry brought extensive experience in municipal government and finances to the appointed position. He served as Lynnfield Town Administrator and Town Accountant from 1969 to 1980, and continues to work with Town officials on a voluntary basis. Prior to his career with the Town of Lynnfield, Mr. Gerry was associated with A.C. Lawrence Leather where he was involved in budget planning.

"Roger Gerry has been instrumental in the success of the Citizens' Advisory Board," RMLD General Manager Len Rucker said. "We have relied upon his municipal and budgetary experience as it relates to RMLD expenditures and planning. He has been a tremendous asset to the RMLD, the Board of Light Commissioners, and the Citizens' Advisory Board."

Andrew Geddry chosen "Outstanding Student"

Andrew Geddry, son of Walter and Sandra Geddry of Tewksbury has been chosen "Outstanding Vocational-Technical Student" at Shawsheen Tech. In addition to his selection at the Tech, he will be honored along with about 40 others, as an outstanding vocational technical student in Mass. at a statewide banquet at Mechanics Hall in Worcester during Mass. Vocational Technical Education Week, March 5-11.

Outstanding in academic and technical pursuits at the Tech, Andrew is a consistent honor roll student, vice president of the Shawsheen Technical Skills Honor Society, the November, 1994 "Senior of the Month" and a recipient of many citizenship awards, given to students deemed "pleasant to teach."

Andrew tested his technical skills in VICA competition, winning a state gold medal, then representing Mass. in 1993 at the National Skill Olympics where his Health Knowledge Bowl team took third place in the country. He hopes to again qualify for state competition and will compete in March at the VICA district competition in the individual category of medical assisting.

In preparation for his future as a physical therapist, he volunteers at Tewksbury Hospital as a physical therapist aide. "A physical therapist helps people get better; this is a very positive career," he says.

Andrew has played soccer and tennis for the Tech since ninth grade and was on the wrestling team. He is an Eagle Scout, member of his church youth group and church secretary. In leisure time, he enjoys skate boarding, video games, restoring old cars and music.

Boating safety course

The Coast Guard Auxiliary boating safety course starts Wednesday, March 1 at the Reading VFW Hall, 575 Main St., Reading. Learn all about navigation, rules of the road and safety requirements.

This 13 lesson course will start at 7 p.m. on March 1 and continue for 12 consecutive Wednesday evenings.

Since Massachusetts law now requires most teenage boat operators to pass a boating safety program, families are encouraged to take the course together. Sign up on the first night at the door and prepare for a safe and enjoyable summer.

John Thomas appointed to Citizens Advisory Board

John J. Thomas of Lynnfield was recently appointed to the Reading Municipal Light Department's five member Citizens Advisory Board (CAB), an ad hoc advisory committee whose membership consists of representatives from the four communities in the RMLD service territory of Reading, No. Reading, Lynnfield and Wilmington. Mr. Thomas succeeds CAB charter member Roger Gerry as Lynnfield's representative.

Mr. Thomas is active in local and regional government and public affairs. He was recently elected secretary of the Municipal Finance Study Committee in Lynnfield, and has previously served that community as a member of the Charter Review Committee.

A graduate of Suffolk University where he received a degree in Government, Mr. Thomas has worked as a technician in the process control field for the past 10 years.

"We are pleased that John Thomas has joined the Citizens Advisory Board," RMLD General Manager

Len Rucker said. "I am sure that he will be an asset to the CAB and will work with the other members to oversee RMLD operations in an advisory capacity. I join the RMLD staff, members of the Board of Light Commissioners and the CAB members as we extend a warm welcome to John."

Globe Scholastic Art Award winners announced

The Wilmington High School Art Department has announced this year's award winners in the Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards. The competition which is open to all high school students is intense. Entries are limited so each school submits only work exhibiting the highest creative and technical standards. The letters from the Boston Globe expressly stated the exceptional quality of this year's work.

Freshman Kevin Chappie has been awarded a Gold Key for his photograph, "Wheat in the Wind," a black and white photograph hand colored in watercolors. Kevin's photograph will be exhibited, with other Gold and Silver Key winners at the State Transportation Building in Boston. He was presented his award at a ceremony held Sunday, Feb. 12.

Senior, Mike Fuller and junior Douglas Olender received Honorable Mentions for their photographs "Hound Dog" and "Reflections" respectively. A new category, Video Animation was introduced and Tim Murphy's "Supplies Party" was awarded an Honorable Mention. Paul Savage has been a recipient of past awards and again received an Honorable Mention for his watercolor painting entitled "Global Dump."

Wilmington High School offers a complete program in the Fine Arts and Photography. Staffed by Suzette Durso and Marie Shack, courses are offered for the serious student as well as those investigating their creative and aesthetic interests. These students have demonstrated hard work, attention to detail, strong technical skills as well as a creative vision. The students are considered fully worthy of their recognition.

Tewksbury resident performs service project

Jason Hyde, son of James and Suzanne Hyde of Blease Drive, Tewksbury, recently spent a week in Fox, Ark., lending a hand in a poor community. Hyde is a senior biochemistry major at Saint Michael's College located in Colchester, Vt.

Hyde was one of 10 St. Michael's students who traveled to Fox in early January as part of the SMC service program. While many of his classmates were at home with their friends, Hyde was working at the Meadow Creek Education Center planting, recycling and cleaning. Meadow Creek lost a valuable government grant and is now struggling to survive. The students offered their time to help the people of Meadow Creek, a community that seeks alternative ways to meet its needs.

The trip was organized by Mobilization of Volunteer Efforts (MOVE), the service organization at St. Michael's College.

St. Michael's, founded in 1904 by the Society of St. Edmund and headed by President Paul J. Reiss, has been identified as one of the five best small comprehensive colleges in the nation.

L.R.S. Explorers applauded

The L.R.S. School Age Program at the Dewing School and Li'l Red Schoolhouse both on Andover Street in Tewksbury have been heralded for excellent programming in addressing the needs of school age children and their families.

The need for comprehensive year round programs has been addressed at this year's conference of the National Association for the Education of Young Children in Atlanta, Ga. L.R.S. Explorers was singled out by AEYC and local Resource and Referral agencies because family needs are met by offering a complete enrichment before and after school program along with half day snow day, and mini vacation camps during the school year as well as an accredited summer day camp during the summer months.

Staff is an important factor in a quality school age program. Degree, certified coordinator and group leaders work hard in creating fun filled activities and centers. School age specialists applauded L.R.S. Explorers for developing enrichment centers such as Future Architects, electronics (can you fix it?), science labs and music appreciation. School age specialists also spoke highly of the program's collaborative effort with a local dance studio in creating "Funky Fitness" dance lessons.

Congratulations to site coordinator, Renee Rodriguez and president, Ed Kontos for providing a quality program for parents in the Tewksbury area.

Color for tobacco control

The Wilmington Tobacco Control Program, in cooperation with the Wilmington Public Schools, is sponsoring a coloring contest in February to celebrate "heart" month. The contest will run through the month of February, with all entries due on or before March 1, 1995.

The contest is open to all Wilmington youth in grades kindergarten through grade two. There will be a total of 12 contest winners, four in each grade level. Contest information is available at each elementary school and at Town Hall, Room 5.

Breastfeeding course

The decision to breastfeed or bottle feed is a topic of importance to new parents. Winchester Hospital offers a workshop, helpful to parents to be which provides accurate information on this subject.

EFFECTIVE MARKETING

You are feeling a little hysterical - your home has been listed for two weeks, and you have seen only one newspaper ad featuring it. Although your house is being shown regularly, you are wondering whether the agent is doing enough.

Sellers often equate effective marketing with classified ads in the weekend Sunday real estate section. These ads generate relatively few sales. The most skilled Realtors know their market well enough to know where the prospective buyers for your home are likely to come from. They will look for the best ways to reach those people through direct mail, telephone contact or specialized ads in neighborhood publications. They will also work to get their colleagues excited about your house, especially agents who have many listings or sales in your neighborhood. And remember - it is important for you and your agent to communicate often so you will know exactly what is being done to sell your home.

For professional advice on buying or selling real estate, please drop by our office in The Starwood Building at 299 Main Street, or call us at 657-8444.

Wilmington's Woburn Street School received a certificate for its art department from the Reading Municipal Light Department, thanks to the winning t-shirt created by fourth grader Jaclyn Nikodemos. RMLD representatives Philip Pacino, second from right, a member of the Board of Light Commissioners, and Ann Marie Brennick, right, an Energy Analyst for the RMLD. The certificate was accepted by art teacher Karen Larrabee, left and Principal Kate Conway, second from left, during an awards presentation hosted by the RMLD for the winners and their families. Commissioner Pacino served as the representative for Board of Light Commission member and contest liaison William J. Hughes, Jr.

Jaclyn Nikodemos (foreground, right) Wilmington's first place winner of the Reading Municipal Light Department's Public Power Week t-shirt art contest is congratulated by her family, Woburn Street School representatives and RMLD Commissioner Philip Pacino, right, as she displays the t-shirt she created for the annual energy conservation and safety contest. Among those who were on hand as Jaclyn received her award were her sister Lauren (foreground, left) and (back row, left to right) Josephine Cokash, mom Cathy Nikodemos, Woburn Street School Principal Kate Conway and art teacher Karen Larrabee, and Commissioner Philip Pacino who represented the Board and fellow Commissioners William J. Hughes Jr., who serves as the Board's liaison to the contest.

Reading Municipal Light Department Board of Light Commissioner Philip Pacino, right, who represented Commissioner William J. Hughes Jr. during the awards presentation ceremony for the t-shirt art contest winner and their families, congratulates Wilmington's second place winner Paul Sferazza for his creative efforts. Joining Paul are his parents Karen and Paul Sferazza.

Jane Parenteau, right, Senior Planning Analyst for the Reading Municipal Light Department, recently joined Enerpro Engineering Inc. Representatives Eric Dempsey, left, and Tano Tavaroli, center, as they install motion sensor lighting at the Coolidge Middle School in Reading as part of the Capacity Awareness Program (CAP). The CAP was designed by the Reading Municipal Light Department as a direct means for the towns in the RMLD's service territory to save money on electrical costs. The program involved replacing the existing lighting and ballasts in town buildings with energy efficient lights and ballasts, as well as motion sensors in the schools.

Stone's in the Garden

Carol Mackie -- a perfect shrub

by Jackie Leszczak-Stone
There is one shrub in my garden that everyone ask about. The Daphne called "Carol Mackie" (D. x burkwoodii "Carol Mackie") displays a serene beauty that inspires gardeners, floral designers, and casual visitors in every season. This tidy, May/June flowering shrub became widely available at garden centers only recently. At first you may think that a twenty dollar twig with a few small, variegated leaves is not a bargain. But in two years you will realize its true value in your garden.

Daphnes are known for the small but fabulously perfumed flowers that engulf the plant in late spring. Carol Mackie is no exception. After only three years, my former twig has become a three foot mound of pink perfume that adds a succession of scent and dainty color to the front of a sunny mixed border.

As the flowers fade, however, the form of the plant and color of its leaves become the object of admiration. The branches are covered with small, soft green leaves, each bordered by a buttery cream edge. This foliage dances in the summer breeze and although I hate to cut it, it looks wonderful in small, natural floral settings.

The compact, rounded form of this shrub makes it perfect for a small garden, perhaps near a door or a deck where you can enjoy the scent, flowers and leaves. It hates to be moved, however, so find a good home for it before planting. Best of all Carol Mackie is evergreen in my Tewksbury garden. Although a few leaves are dropped in the fall, the variegated display last all winter.

Soon we will begin question and answers in this column, so forward your questions to the Town Crier, P.O. Box 939, Wilmington, MA 01887 or call 658-2346 (answering machine on at night). Select questions will be addressed in this column.

"So Much to Say" airs on WCTV

From the same people who brought you "Catching Frogs with Dagwood Peters" and "A Day in the Life of Velcro," a new sketch comedy program that is not afraid to tackle the issues of the day.

"It's like watching 60 Minutes," says Celia Rubinawitz of 555 Curdsen Way, Burlington, "except it's only 30 minutes, has no basis in reality, and stars no one named Morley."

Blending a unique combination of bravado and satire, the cast of So Much to Say approaches comedy like a rookie rodeo clown with an inner ear infection. Not since the lone gunman on that Dallas grassy knoll have so many people conspired to pull off something they know is ethically void and a detriment to society as a whole.

Tune in to So Much to Say on WCTV Channel 30, Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 p.m., for an esoteric interpretation of the comedy that we sometimes miss in everyday life...and if you try hard enough you might see it on the show as well.

For more information contact WCTV Programming director at 508-657-4066.

Wilmington Library notes

Hours

Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Closed Feb. 20

The library will be closed all day Monday, February 20.

Winter-indoors and out

Those running out of ideas for entertainment for themselves or their families are urged to make use of the library's resources. Listings of events, and ideas culled from books and magazines may put some zip into flagging cold weather spirits.

Newspapers

Besides the information about local events posted on the library's bulletin boards, there is the Boston Globe's weekly "calendar" section; information in the local papers to which the library subscribes; and the monthly "Boston Parents" paper available in the children's room which lists events for children and families in its "What's Happening?" column.

Book suggestions for adults

Fodor's Bahamas: the complete guide including the Turks and Caicos Islands (1995); Fodor's Florida: the complete guide with the best beaches, resorts, restaurants, shopping and golf (1995).

The Joy of Snacks: good nutrition for people who like to snack by Nancy Cooper; Savory Stews by Jacques Burdick.

Sew Many Gifts, Sew Little Time: more than 50 special projects to be cherished and enjoyed by Chris Rankin; 52 Toys for the Weekend Woodworker by John Nelson;

Tasha Tudor's Garden by Tovah Martin; Taylor's Master Guide to Gardening.

Book suggestions for children and parents

The Easy Ice Skating Book by Jonah and Laura Kalb; Kidding Around Boston: A Young Person's Guide to the City by Helen Byers; Kids' Games: Traditional indoor and outdoor activities for children of all ages by Phil Wiswell; Let's Make Magic by Jon Day.

Places to go with Children in New England by Diane Blair and Pamela Wright; Pretend Soup, and Other Real Recipes: A cookbook for preschoolers and up by Mollie Katzen and Ann Henderson; A Very Young Skier written and photographed by Jill Krentz.

Tewksbury library notes

Tewksbury's Patten Public Library will conduct its annual post-holiday food drive during the month of February. Food collection will be donated to the Tewksbury Community Food Pantry.

While the holidays may be over, the issue of hunger has not gone away. According to Library trustee chairman Maureen Kelley, local residents are being asked to remember those who are less fortunate during this current cold snap.

This is the fifth year that the library trustees have endorsed this community involvement project. Mrs. Kelley remarked, "The food pantries are normally well stocked between Thanksgiving and Christmas because the plight of the homeless and unemployed is so predominant in the news during the holiday season. But how many of us continue to make that extra effort once the holiday decorations are put away? Tewksbury is known as a caring community in which residents are willing to pitch in to help neighbors who are experiencing hardship."

Previous library food drives have been highly successful, due in part to the library's central location in town and because of the library's long hours.

Area residents are asked to drop off non-perishable (and non-breakable) food items; specially marked containers are in the library's lobby. Recommended items are canned goods high in protein, such as soups, stews, canned meats and fish, such as tuna, and canned spaghetti sauce. Other useful items include baby formula and pasta, especially macaroni and cheese.

Items for the good drive can be dropped off during normal library hours, Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Fundraising footnotes

The Library Building Fund has received generous donations from Sheehan's Tewksbury Pharmacy and the Tewksbury Elks Club. Both Sheehan's and the Elks placed collection canisters coin collectors in their establishments. Their efforts are appreciated.

The penny drive is still going strong and has just received a check for $300 from the Dewing School PAC. PACs at the North Street and Heath Brook Schools, as well as at the Dewing, are collecting pennies from school children again this year.

The aim of the penny drive is to collect one million pennies ($10,000) which will be earmarked to purchase furnishings and equipment for the children's wing of the proposed new public library building. Preliminary designs from our architect show a children's room in the new library that is larger than the entire existing library building. This component of the building fund campaign is rapidly approaching $6,000.

Construction grants, Library staff members and trustees are working on a proposal for construction funds from the state for the new library building. The complex grant application is due March 1. The Library Building Advisory Committee has been reviewing applications from interested architects and interviewing finalists.

Building Fund update. As of Dec. 15, the library building fund had received $25,000 in donations since it was launched on Feb. 26, 1994.

Memorial donations. The fund has been the recipient of memorial donations in honor of the following individuals in 1994: Robert S. Busch, Jean Mann, Olive Haines, Mary V. Donovan, Al Desmarais, Lawrence Besso, Sally Gelin, May Hooper.

Trustees meet. The second Monday evening of each month at seven in the conference room. Local residents are invited to attend these public meetings.

Dance. Last February the building fund campaign was kicked off with a gala dinner dance. A second such event will be held Sat., Feb. 25 at Holiday Inn on Route 133 in No. Tewksbury.

New staff. Joyce Salvato became full time in the fall, filling a staff vacancy that had existed for more than five years. She works in circulation and in technical services. The library's new part time custodian is Joe Rice.

Used book sale. Residents are asked to save books and flea market items for the 20th annual used book sale scheduled for Saturday, May 13 on the town common.

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce recently held a thank you breakfast for the co-sponsors of the Business Expo which will be held at the Shriner's Auditorium on May 5. Presenting a plaque to John Weaver of Ametek Aerospace Products is Expo 95 chairperson Teri LaBella of Wilmington Insurance Company. Other companies cosponsoring the Expo are AT&T, Agfa, Division of Miles Inc., Continental Cablevision, Genetics Institute, Inc., Polymer Technology Corp., Reading Municipal Light, Winchester Hospital Family Medical Center and Zenica Resins.

Library technology update

Tewksbury Memorial High School (TMHS) librarian Gertrude Carey is working very hard to update technology in the school library. Ms. Carey is the recipient of complimentary copies of Microsoft's Encarta and Bookshelf on CD roms. Microsoft Company has sent these computer programs to a few selected schools to review.

Encarta is a multimedia encyclopedia that has interactive charts and tables, animated video clips, time lines of world history, plus the usual encyclopedia articles written in a lively style.

Bookshelf is a collection of seven important reference books on a computer program. Hammond Atlas is a sample of one of the reference books included in Bookshelf. This software actually plays the national anthems of countries and links to other reference books. Another sample is the Peoples Chronology which is a social and historical collection that covers earliest times to 1991. Students can trace the development of ideas or movements over a period of time in keeping with the new trend of studying social history. One other sample is Bartlett's Quotations. Juniors Jim Bannon and Steve Collins search for quotes related to education that can be used for the school's daily bulletin.

Students enjoy using the new software. Freshman, Mike Bennett says "I like the graphics and the easy access to definitions of words I don't know." Senior Jennifer Stella said "It is very informative, and has good detailed graphics and is also fun to use."

The two CD Roms gives the library recent copyrighted reference material. Ms. Carey says "This is just the beginning."

Questions may be directed to Gail Pollard at TMHS, 851-2011.

Rep. Meehan nominates two Tewksbury men

U.S. Rep. Marty Meehan has recommended 27 Fifth District students for appointments to one of the four U.S. military service academies.

"We're lucky to have so many outstanding young people who want to serve their country in the armed forces," Meehan said. "I'm proud to nominate them for acceptance to the academies which are among the finest educational institutions in the world."

Meehan used a competitive process in selecting students for nomination. Applicants were compared on the basis of academic standing, extra-curricular activities, scholastic aptitude test (SAT) scores and community service. The students selected by Meehan must compete against other seniors from across the country. They will learn this spring whether they received an appointment.

All of these students, whether they are ultimately accepted by an academy or not, deserve a lot of credit for the outstanding work they have done over the last several years," Meehan said.

Meehan held a reception in honor of the students on Saturday, January 28 at 9:30 a.m. in his Lowell Congressional Office.

Free hunter education course offered in Tewksbury

Mass. Hunter Education Instructor Ed Donahue will hold a Basic Hunter Education Course at the Billerica Rod & Gun Club, Pond Street, Billerica. This course is free to the general public. Students must attend every session. Register first class.

Instruction will take place March 2, 9, 16, 23, 30 and April 6. Classes will run 6:30 to 9 p.m. Adults, as well as younger men and women, are encouraged to attend. A State Hunter Education certificate is provided to course graduates, 15 years or older. Youngsters, ages 10-14, may participate and request a "Letter of Completion" to meet out-of-state licensing requirements. Parental permission is required of all students under 18 years of age.

Each year volunteer instructors and Mass. Environmental Police hold over 100 hunter education courses throughout the state. The state certificate issued at these classes serves two legal purposes. First, this card allows young men and women between 15 and 17 years old to hunt alone on their first Mass. hunting license. Secondly, the certificate is frequently necessary for either adults or minors to purchase a hunting license from other U.S. states and Canadian provinces. All states in the northeast have such requirements, except for Mass. Many experienced hunters participate to qualify for out-of-state licenses.

For additional information on courses, write, Hunter Education, P.O. Box 408 Westminster, MA 01473-0408 or call the bureau office at 508-792-7434.

KIWANIS GREAT RUBBER DUCK RACE

What is the Rubber Duck Race?

It's only the most exciting race held for charity in Wilmington since the quackery was invented!

How the race works:

On April 22, 1995 little yellow rubber duckies will be launched into Silver Lake of the Snausheen River on Rt. 129 @ the Wilmington/Billerica Town Lines for a race to the finish line. The duckies will be numbered. The numbers correspond to the ticket numbers which you can purchase. If the duck with your number on it crosses the finish line first, you win the Grand Prize, $1000.00. Consolation prizes will be awarded for the next 2 Duckies to finish.

Rubber Duckie Sponsorships

Rubber Duckie Sponsorships cost $5.00 each. Purchase a Family of 12 duckies for $50.00 and receive 2 Free Duckies

Rubber Duck Race Proceeds:

The Kiwanis Club of Wilmington, Inc. is part of a worldwide service organization of individuals who want to improve their communities. As a group, we achieve what we cannot do alone. Kiwanis perform service beyond the capability of the individual: assistance to the aging, the needy, and the youth; improvement of community. All individuals of good standing in the community are invited to join Kiwanis. We Meet Monday nights @ 7:00PM throughout the year at Harrows Restaurant Rt. 28 in Reading, MA

How to Participate

Just fill in your name, address and telephone number, enclose total donation with bottom part of this form payable to Wilmington Kiwanis. You will receive a ticket with a number that matches the number on one of the rubber duckies.

Wilmington senior topics

The Commissioners' meeting will be held in the function room of the Senior Center Tuesday, Feb. 21 starting at 1:30 p.m. Guest speakers at this meeting will be Collen Kelly from Secure Horizon and Winn Sargisson from Harvard both are HMO's.

With the supplement insurance coverage many of us have now getting to be impossible for seniors to pay, the alternatives being offered to the elderly are HMOs, that is Health Management Organizations. They are a little cheaper insurance coverage to supplement the 80 percent of medical care covered by Medicare. Before you sign up for an HMO, find out if this HMO will be good for you. They all sound terrific, but are they?

We should ask a lot of questions from both of these HMO's. Such as, are they certified by Medicare. In Massachusetts several years ago the Legislature passed a Balance Billing Law. That Law said if your doctor accepted assignment from Medicare, that would be Medicare would put a price on the medical care we received from a doctor or hospital, 80 percent of that price would be all Medicare would pay the provider, they could not charge the patient any more. Then the 20 percent would be paid by your supplement policy, a private insurance company or an HMO.

One question that should be asked is, "how are they going to handle our medical care cost? Those with other questions are urged to take them along to get answers first hand, before signing up with either.

We all will have to have some kind of a supplement insurance coverage with Washington leaning heavily on cutting Medicare. If they succeed without the proper supplemental policy the seniors will pay a large portion of the bill out of their pockets. It is time now to get as much information as possible. Try to be at the meeting, if only to listen to what these persons have to say.

A little reminder, last year it was voted when the schools are closed due to storms, the Center will be closed also. The staff will be in the building if possible to handle telephone calls and services. All programs will be canceled. Listen to the school closings on the radio or television.

The first meeting of this year's Senior Citizens' Fair Committee will be held in the center Wednesday, Feb. 22 at 1 p.m. Any senior who would like to help in any way in making this fair the best one yet is urged to be on hand. Help will be needed in handling a table, working in the kitchen, accepting and logging gifts and articles for the fair, etc. Those who can not make it to the meeting but will be helping by making articles etc., please call Edie at the Center.

We have an excellent art class with the best of teachers. Any senior who would like to learn to draw and maybe advance to painting with water colors should drop by and meet George Webster, he will teach you how to get involved in this excellent hobby. George can help you enjoy drawing. This is a hobby that can keep you busy when at home, in a park, or at the beach. It can be addictive as you will want to learn more and more. The class is held every Monday from 1 to 3 p.m. It is free to all Wilmington seniors.

Middlesex Community College (MCC) has a dental hygiene service available to the public. For a complete dental cleaning, oral examination, dental prophylaxis, home care instructions, fluoride treatment and x-rays provided by students under the supervision of licensed dental hygienist and dentists for persons 60 years and older at $5 per visit. Appointments can be made by calling Carol Roche 508-658-3962. The clinic is located at MCC Health Science and Technology Center, 44 Middle St., Lowell.

Transportation will be provided by the college if necessary.

Income taxes are being prepared at the Senior Center every Wednesday through February and March by appointment only. Call the Center at 657-7595 or 658-2258.

by James Pote
The Wilmington High School girls basketball team has clinched first place of the MVC small school title with a come from behind win in which they hit ten free throws in a row down the stretch to beat Lawrence 49-43 despite trailing by eight points.

Wilmington is now 10-9 overall and 8-5 within their league, while Lawrence is 6-5 within their league and they still have to play Dracut and Billerica. Should Lawrence lose to one of those two teams, Wilmington will be in first place by themselves - a feat which would put a nice storybook ending to their farewell to the MVC.

The girls were led by Leanne Harris' 19 points and 12 rebounds. Harris came up big in the latter half with 11 points, but the turning point of the game was when Nancy Pote hit a three pointer which gave Wilmington the lead for the first time in the game which they then secured for the rest of the game. And that came at the seven minute mark left to go in the game.

"The free throws were the difference. Our defense was unbelievable. The first half our shot selection was real good but nothing was going in. The kids played their hearts out and they deserve it," said head coach Jim Tildsey.

In the closing minutes, Lisa Southmayd, Nancy Pote and Leanne Harris combined for those ten in a row free throw shots. Southmayd and Pote finished with seven points, while senior Erin Falzone finished with ten.

"I'm extremely pleased. I thought we rebounded real well our half court trap was working very well and we shut down Ad Colon (ten points first half) in the second half (no points)," Tildsey said.

Tildsey also said he was pleased with Jenna Tait and Jacqui Hayder for their fine hustle. He also said Jacqui Holloway's big baseline jumpshot with two minutes left was also a big part to the clincher.

28-2 run keeps tourney hopes alive for Cats

by James Pote
Trailing by twelve points at 29-17 at the start of the second half, the Wilmington High School boys basketball team kept their state tournament hopes alive when they went on a 28-2 run to overcome Lawrence 62-53.

With this win, Wilmington now has two games left on their schedule which will determine if this Cinderella team can make it to another tier of play. If they can beat Cape Ann League opponent Manchester, who has fallen off the ranks as of late on Monday and then come back against Trinity Catholic on Tuesday - whose leading scorer pumps in 38 a game, then the Wildcats will be off to playoff land.

"I'm ecstatic. The kids played unbelievable. They decided at the start of the second half that they wanted this game - and it was their game. And they deserved it," said head coach Jim McCune.

The big key to the Lawrence win was the team was 17-20 from the free throw line and nine for ten in the last two minutes. Doug Olander was perfect with 14 points, 12 rebounds and a perfect seven for seven streak from the foul line. Dave DeSantis and Dan Kivlehan followed with 12 points each with the latter getting six assists.

"They just kept packing in it. They went out as they always do and they gave it everything. They have worked this hard from the start of the season and now it is catching up to them," McCune said.

Also contributing in the win were junior Brian Carroll with seven points and freshman Scott Swierzynski with six.

The tip-off against Manchester will be at 7:30 on Monday night with the game on the road. As is the game against Trinity Catholic on Tuesday, who again has their leading scorer averaging 38 points a game to lead all of Eastern Massachusetts - but as Wilmington has showed it takes more than one player to win.

MacDonald, Tate walk away as champs

by James Pote
Mike MacDonald and Billy Tate each took home first place finishes this past weekend when Wilmington took part of the division three state wrestling tournament.

MacDonald came in first in the 152 division, while Tate finished first in the 112 division.

Also taking places were: Billy Harrison (2nd place in 135), Doug Costa (3rd place - 119), John Roberto (3rd place - 103) Sean Kerrigan (4th place - 160), Joe McHale (5th place - 130), Mike O'Toole (5th place - 140), Mike Shelley (5th place - 125) and Steve Ritucci (6th place - 145).

Hockey team just about in

by James Pote
Another victory for the Wilmington High School hockey team will earn them into state tournament play.

Wilmington with it's 9-5 overall record, were able to get their with their 4-2 win over Westford Academy this past Saturday. Mike Barry scored his 14th goal of the season, while Dennis Torpey scored two goals to put him up to 12 on the season.

This week the team is home against North Reading on Wednesday night - early guess the clincher and then Tewksbury also home on Saturday afternoon.

Arciero nets 40 in OT win

by James Pote
Freshman Jeff Arciero scored 40 points in the 78-70 overtime win for the WHS freshman basketball team.

Arciero hit a three pointer at the buzzer of regulation to send the game into overtime. In the first half, he had just seven points and the second half he lit up like the Fourth of July fireworks.

Wilmington was down by six at one time during the overtime to then go up by seven in a matter of what seemed like seconds to then win the game by eight.

Buddy Phillips also contributed with 18 points.

The drawing for state tournament action will take place Friday, February 24th will first round action starting Tuesday, February 28th. The girls basketball team and boys ice hockey team are already in - the boys basketball team is hoping they will be able too.

Shana Boucher - taking life one leap at a time

by James Pote

As a young girl, she would go out to the front yard with her older sister and practice doing flips and cartwheels. Now ten years later, she just completed what maybe her last flips, cartwheels and very impressive dance routines. These are the techniques and maneuvers she used in her four years on Wilmington's gymnastics team.

Shana Boucher, a senior at Wilmington High School has been a captain of the gymnastics team as well as a captain of this past year's football cheerleading team. This past Saturday she completed her impressive four year career on the gymnastics team.

As she and her older sister, Jennifer were fooling around in their yard their mother was concerned that they might get hurt. She enrolled Shana and Jennifer into gymnastics classes. Their mother's concern proved to be a very wise choice as both of them have taken turns as captain of their respective teams. Their tenure spans five years.

Jennifer first took the wheel of success as a captain in her senior year of 1990-91 season. Shana was captain her freshman year which was 1991-92 season. That task of being named captain her freshman year was a little rough - especially since there was little to none experience and that she was new to the school.

"Everything was brand new. The school, the team, the coach and the system. It was a little tough but through the four years the team has stayed together and really has progressed," said Boucher.

"I believe that this season we won every meet - because of our spirit. Every other team only has concerns for themselves and not their teammates. But, our team knows how much they have accomplished and they always pull for each other," Boucher continued.

But, the road to stardom was not all that easy for Shana. When she was 13 and in one of her usual gymnastics classes, she had a little accident while practicing one of her routines. An accident that stopped her gymnastics career for about a year and a half. When she was practicing to do a cartwheel, Shana landed on her arm. She tore ligaments in half and dislocating her elbow. Her elbow was broken, the doctors kept trying (many times) to insert it back to where it was supposed to be. Because of that, her elbow had to be broken and rebroken, restitched and her bone was re-screwed in and then she had to wear a contractible cast. She still shows signs of trouble with her elbow, whenever she tries to do a gymnastics event with her hands.

"I have never been good at the parallel bars and maybe that's why. Because my left arm is weaker than my right and the muscles aren't as strong it's difficult to do the bars," Boucher said.

Her difficulty performing on the parallel bars may have cost Boucher a chance at higher stardom. Throughout this entire gymnastics season, Shana has put up some fantastic scores in all events except the parallel bars. This past Saturday that trend continued as she and her teammates competed in the Merrimack Valley Conference Meet, where she came in a delayed sixth place.

At the MVC Meet, Shana walked away with scores of 7.9 on the vaults and beam, 8.1 on the floor exercises and 5.1 on the bars which was good for 29 points and a sixth best finish in her respected division.

But, when the meet ended, Shana wasn't in the top six places which didn't earn her a trophy because the judges didn't tally up the scores correctly. Therefore another athlete received Shana's trophy. And when it was announced that Shana had come in sixth place, she told the other athlete to keep the trophy. But, that athlete told Shana that she deserved it and for her to have it.

"It really didn't matter to me because I thought she deserved it. It was really nice of her to give it back because I felt so bad for her," Boucher said.

Throughout her four year career Shana has progressed a lot and so have her teammates. This year, the team has done very well and Boucher was a major part to that success. Her highest scores of the season were 8.5 on the floor and the beam, 8.3 on the vault and a 5.7 on the bars. Shana likes both the beam and the floor exercises the best.

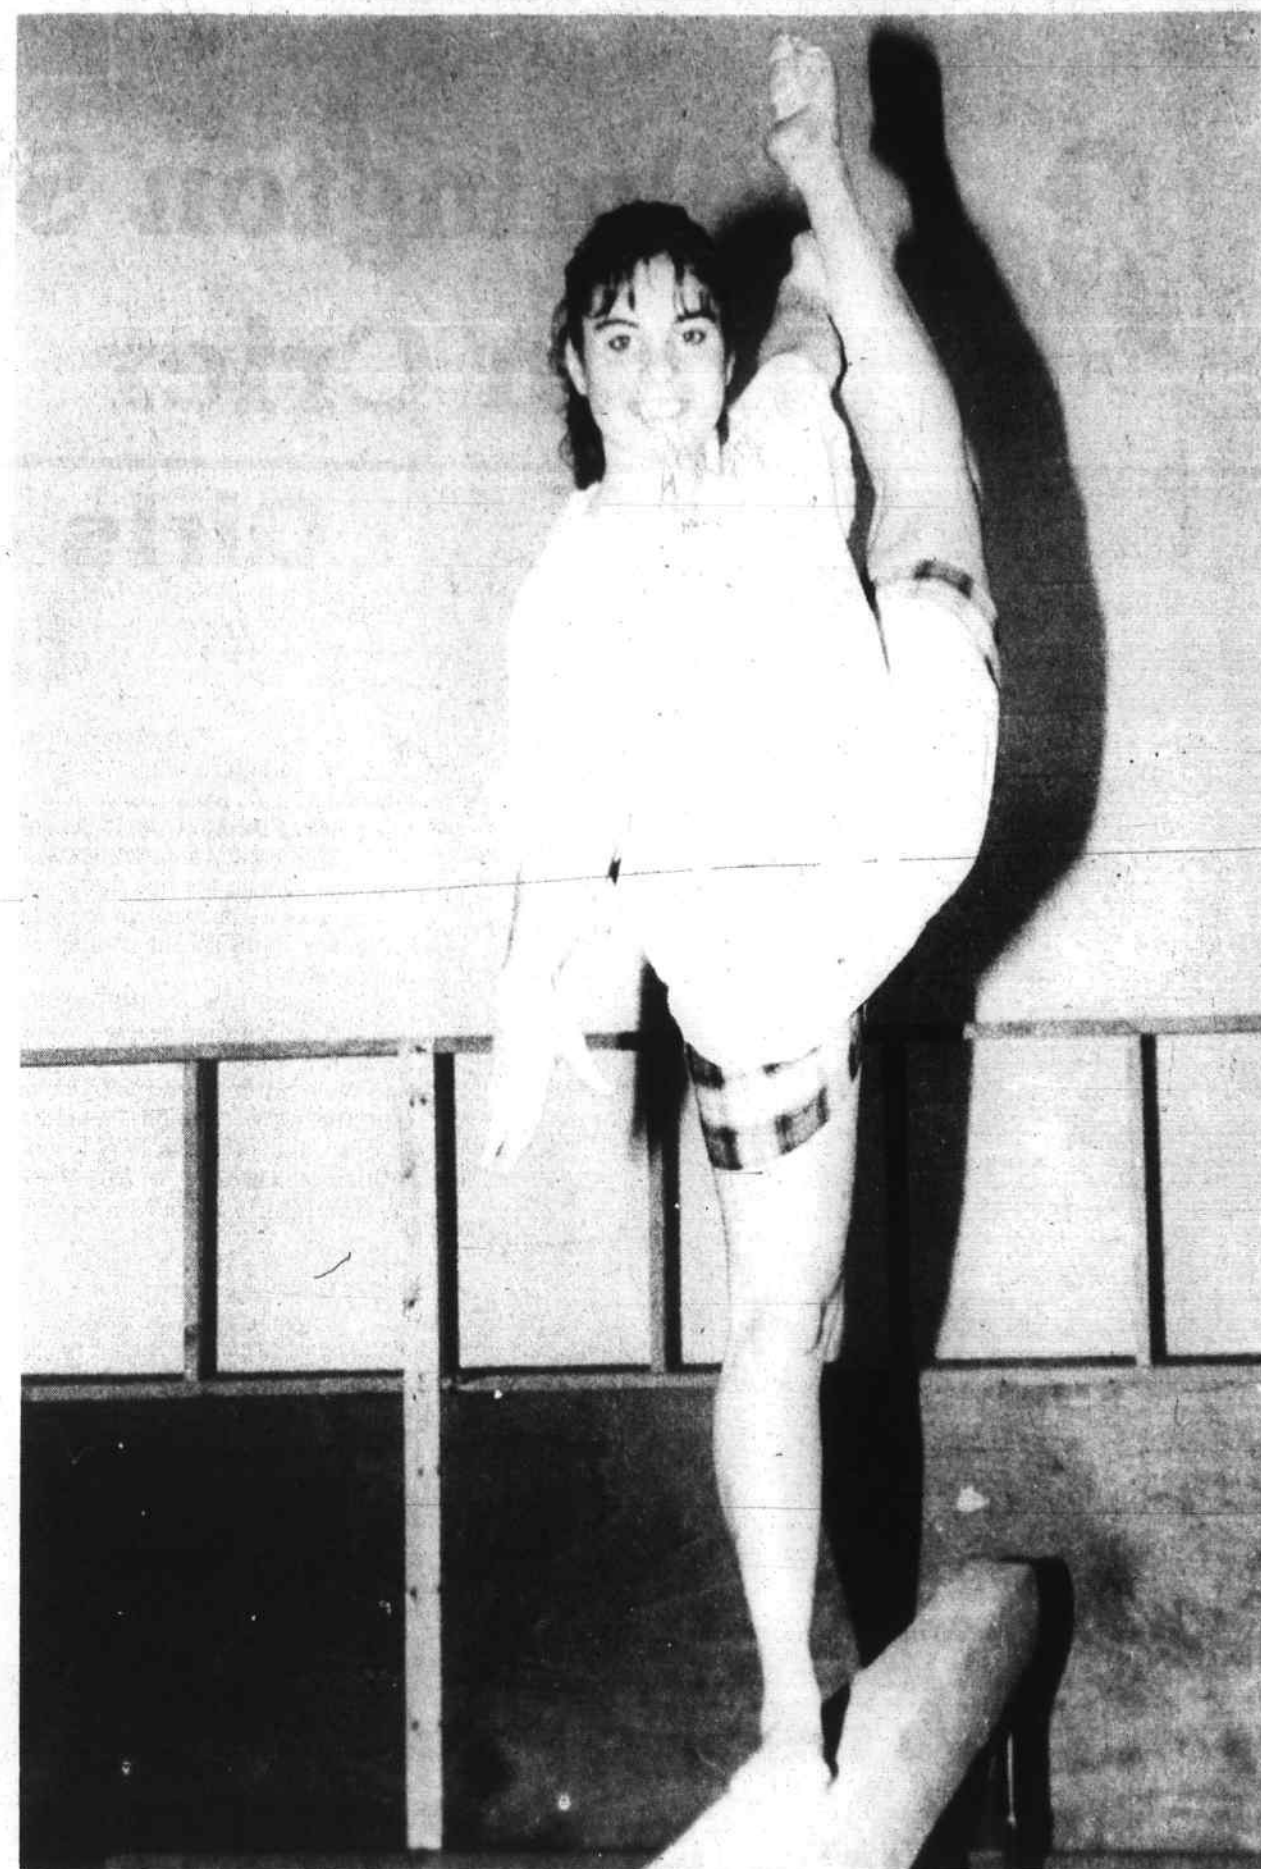

"I like the floor exercises because it's so much fun and you can do whatever you want to do. It's fun dancing to the music, watching everyone else and it's different."

"I like the beam because it's harder. It's higher and thinner and it's harder to do."

As for why she likes gymnastics, "It's different. It's not like basketball or softball. You get to do different techniques and you get to show your different abilities and talents. It's a lot of fun."

With the state qualifying announcements not being known while this article was being published, Shana believed that she will not be one of the qualifiers and that she may have missed it by two-tenths of a point.

Shana also didn't know if this was her end of her career in gymnastics. Along with teaching children gymnastics at the Woburn YMCA, Shana also performs and practices there as well. She still hasn't decided if she wants to continue, but if she does she can compete at the YMCA in a private type of set-up. She said she would have to qualify to reach each level of competition and that there was no one from Wilmington who did this - just athletes from Woburn, Burlington and Stone-ham.

Another one of her accomplishments is the fact that she has been a football cheerleader for three years and a co-captain this past season. She said that she likes and dislikes cheerleading.

"I like cheerleading because you get to stand in front of a crowd and do anything you want to do and not look stupid because that is what your suppose to do. But, I don't like it because cheerleaders never get any credit because it's not considered a real sport."

Cheerleading coach Sally Cosman believes that not only is she a very talented athlete but one who excels in teaching younger kids.

"She is very talented. She works very well in helping the younger kids. I think gymnastics has helped out a lot in cheerleading. It adds more to her tumbling and her mounts. She does a real good job in both sports."

Cosman also had the chance to coach Jennifer and she said it was just really great to be able to coached both of them.

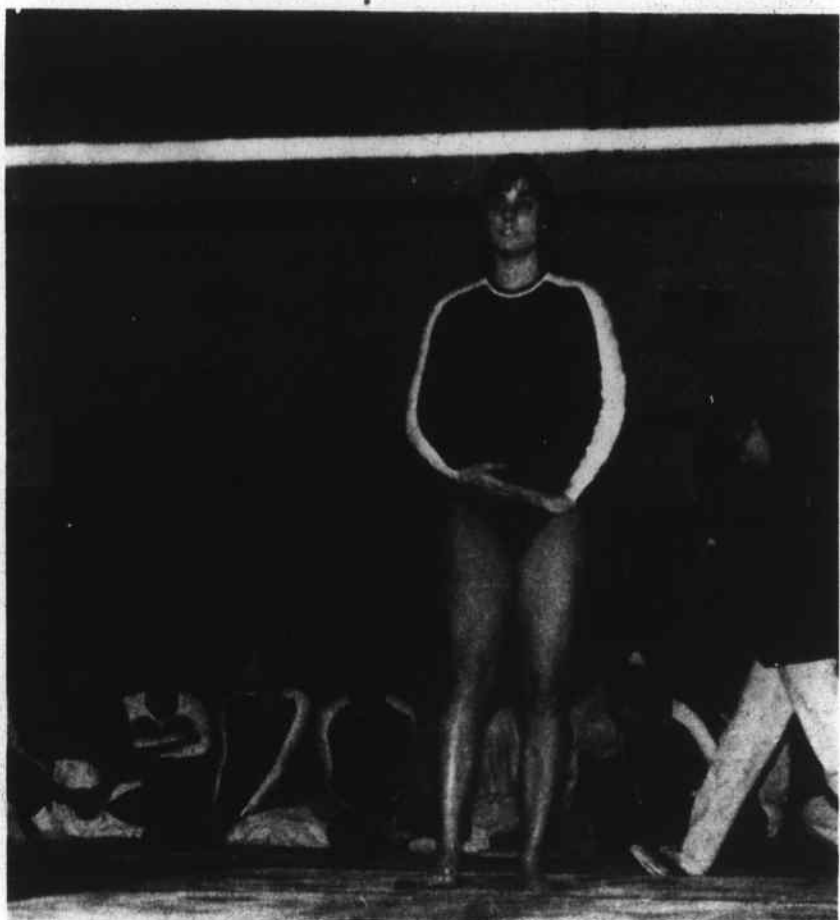

"Both of them are really nice girls. I really liked coaching both of them and to keep the family tradition going."

Furthermore, according to Boucher teaching is something that comes with performing.

"If you can do it and you know how to do it [to perform] then it is easy to teach it. It's easy - you just teach them step by step."

Shana practices what she preaches.

Step by step. From the start of her freshman year until this day, she has taken one step at a time. This year however, she took two major leaps.

ACTUAL CASH VALUE

QUESTION: What is meant by the phrase "Actual Cash Value" in the world of adjusting claims?

ANSWER: This is a valuation figure and means the amount of money needed to replace property that has been destroyed, less depreciation and wear and tear from previous use. The figure can be arrived from book value, market value or other factors.

The replacement cost is the maximum amount that can be recovered, up to — but not exceeding the actual current cash value — even if the property is insured for a higher value. The intent is to pay the insured what he has lost and eliminate "profitable" losses.

John Engdahl will be running his third straight Boston Marathon where he raises money with the help of others to help fight Leukemia. This is a picture of John crossing the finish line last year and this upcoming April, John will be raising money for two of his friends, Mary Lou Ducey of Wilmington who was diagnosed with Leukemia and is doing very well in her recovery and Jean Gorham of Medford.

Engdahl running marathon to raise money for friends who have Leukemia

John Engdahl a resident of Wilmington, was turning 50 years old in 1991 and thought that a way to mark the occasion would be to run in the Boston Marathon.

He trained all winter and believed he was ready. In March he went in for a physical and after a few different tests, he was told on April 3rd that he had leukemia. That was to start a much bigger and different marathon than he had expected.

After a year of treatment under Dr. Vimo in Newton Wellesley Hospital and a bone marrow transplant by Dr. Miller at New England Medical Center, John is now in remission (no sign of leukemia). He says he is one of the lucky people who gained remission. He also said that he met a lot of friends who didn't gain remission (including his sister who died at age four - when he was 12 at the time).

Two years ago, the Leukemia Society of Mass. started Team in Training - people who run the Boston Marathon and collect contributions to help find a cure for this terrible disease. The goal has been set at $1250.00 for each runner. Thanks to the grace of God, John was able to run the past two years and will participate again this April. This year he will be running in honor of Mary Lou Ducey, a friend of many people, who is from Wilmington, who was diagnosed with Leukemia in 1994. She has been undergoing chemotherapy treatment.

John will also be running for Jean Gorham of Medford, who succumbed to this disease in 1988.

John would like to thank his supporters from the past two years and he hopes he can get more supporters this year to help fight this terrible disease. Please join John in the fight to find a cure to an estimated 94,000 new cases of Leukemia and related cancers that will be diagnosed nationwide this year. Thank you for your continued help.

Please make check payable to: The Leukemia Society of America; C/O John Engdahl; 180 Rustcraft Road, Dedham, MA 02026.

Offensive explosion for Cats over Redmen

by James Pote

It all seemed fitting that with the last time, both Wilmington and Tewksbury boys basketball teams would duke it out in regular league play that the gymnasium was packed with more supporters as well as the cheerleading squad having an addition.

The home crowd was extremely noisy of what head coach Jim McCune said "that was the first time in the last six years the student body was behind the team. They were unbelievable. Andy Paglai was great. We needed that all season."

In the 80-58 win for Wilmington, the Cats offense came alive in the second half and they displayed their best brand of ball all season as four players were in double figures in scoring.

Everything was clicking for Wilmington. Dave DeSantis and Paul Bruno led with 16 points each followed by Doug Olander at 13, Dan Kivlehan with 12 and freshman Scott Swieczynski with nine. Bruno also had 16 rebounds to go along with seven steals, while DeSantis contributed with nine assists.

Another big factor to the win was that Wilmington shot 80 percent from their foul line - and that they sank three treys in the latter half which pushed them over the hump and to keep them alive for state tournament hopes.

Wilmington led by 13 at the half and expanded the lead to 22 points most especially in the second half when Kivlehan lit up all 12 of his points.

As for the losing effort, Brian Morris again put up a solid night with 20 points which was followed by T.J. Greenan with seven and John Kinnon with six.

Icehogs just heating up

Last week in Wilmington adult hockey play saw the surging Icehogs beat the fourth place Blue liners, 6-4.

That game was very important to the Icehogs. If they lost, they would be seven points behind the fourth place Blue liners and with eight games left it would be very tough to make the playoffs. Remember the Icehogs lost their first seven games.

So in their last 15 games they are 9-3-3, not bad at all.

The second game Thursday was played between the Chiefs and the White Knights and once again the Knights should have lost, but squeezed out a point for a 2-2 tie. This team is under major turmoil among its players. It's very possible one might see some changes in the near future, especially if they expect to make the playoffs.

Friday's games had Goldenstate verse the Red Team with Goldenstate winning 5-1.

The sky's the limit for this chicken

by James Pote

The question of whether or not the baseball strike will end soon was answered this weekend in the interview with Wade Boggs: Not anytime soon.

In case anyone missed it, Boggs was asked if he thought baseball players were selfish. His response was to ask Jack Nicholson, Michael Jackson and Michael Bolton that same question. He said they were entertainers and baseball players are entertainers and "The Sky's the Limit." He also rephrased Ted Williams, that the hardest thing to do is hit a baseball - referring that baseball players are not selfish because in his mind they can accomplish the toughest which to accomplish.

Please. As much as I like baseball and as much as I thought I liked Wade Boggs, that response that the sky's the limit was ignorant, rude and disrespectful.

That answer is the sole reason why the fans will probably not see a real major league baseball season this year. I don't agree with the cap and I believe both sides are at fault but I also believe that the owners should be raking in the money - it's their team, their business and they can do whatever they want - so why shouldn't they bring in money?

I always admired Wade Boggs. And when he left, I thought it was the right move but I wasn't happy that he was leaving. Now, I'm glad he left. Go ahead, wear a pinstripe when you go to Cooperstown - who cares? Certainly not the Boston fans.

That response was pathetic. I think Wade needs a reality slap. By him saying that the sky's the limit for players salaries, means that every time the players say they are not on strike because of the money, they are on strike to help the future generations. Yeah, we believe you.

And not only is it Wade Boggs, it's other players as well...Tom Glavine - even though he is one of few players who do go to all of the meetings and he is a fellow MVC athlete - he is another greedy and disrespectful player who has no clue whatsoever of what he has. Cecil Fielder - have another doughnut.

I'll admit I cannot wait until a settlement is reached. I don't care who gives in - just as long as I see Jose Canseco belting home runs over the screen. What a sight that will be.

Who cannot get excited that if the four year free agency stands instead of the usual six years it takes for players to become free agents, that the Sox might walk away with Kevin Appier, John Wetteland and Sammy Sosa instead of having Danny Darwin, Steve Farr and Tom Brunansky? And then Canseco instead of Dawson? Mail it in - curse? What curse? 1918 welcome to 1995 - only if the players get off the pedestal they think they should be on.

Seventh grade hoop team breaks even

Winding down the regular season of play, the Wilmington seventh grade boys basketball team broke even this weekend.

Against Methuen the Wildcats took home the victory 57-44. It was an all out team effort on both ends of the court. Fast breaks and good positioning ball led to opportunistic scoring and strong defense which blocked Methuen's hoopsters on the backboard.

Centers Mark Rappoli and Jason Thresher combined for 15 points and showed their size was a big advantage by blocking shots and pulling down rebounds.

Marty Tildsley spurred on his lie, assisting in play after play. Joey Kane and Danny Keating played off each other and tallied up seven and six points respectively.

Ryan O'Donnell tore up the floor alone and managed five points on the night. Being consistent in their play got Darren Aciero six points, Jimmy Rourke four points and Sean Quigley five points. Martin DeAngelo netted a high of nine points for the game.

Duck! Here comes another gun law!

by Bill Conlon
Here we go again! Time to get up on the soapbox and start yelling.

The do-gooders are preparing to stuff yet another pointless firearms law down our throats. You'd think they'd learn that firearms laws just don't work, but they refuse to.

U.S. Senator John F. Kerry sent the Town Crier a fax message this week, which is no surprise since the senator began bombarding us with announcements within hours of last November's election. (Sen. Kerry is up for reelection in '96. Ahh!)

This time, Massachusetts' junior senator announced the filing of the "Kerry Ammunition Safety Act of 1995," on February 13. Oh boy.

Kerry complains that current law does not adequately restrict the sale and manufacture of armor-piercing ammunition (oh?) but his new bill will fix that, of course. The senator states that ammo manufacturers are ducking the law by making bullets under different names than the ones banned by Congress, or by simply tweaking the description of a new round so the ammo is placed into a legal category. Oh please! Makes all ammo manufacturers sound like they're really pushing AP ammo on us, doesn't it? Has anybody reading this ever SEEN an AP round?

The senator's bill would require both the Justice and Treasury departments to carry out "destructive rating tests" for every type of bullet sold, and to set a legal standard for the "armor-piercing threshold" of all ammo. Lovely. The makers of all bullets sold in the U.S. would be required to pony up the costs for Justice and Treasury to conduct the "destructive rating" tests, which is called an "unfunded mandate" by some people these days. But wait!

Among other provisions, Kerry's bill would ban interstate transport or sale of handgun ammo except to licensed dealers, require a background check on anyone seeking to buy handgun ammo, and require all dealers in handgun ammunition to be licensed with the feds.

Hello! Senator! Good morning!

The background checks for gun purchases, as required by the Brady Bill, are facing legal challenges and foot-dragging from the states, so a requirement for such a check on all ammunition buyers is nothing short of silly. And isn't a Federal Firearms License (FFL) already needed to sell ammunition? Hello!

As for the interstate transport of handgun ammunition, God help the poor sap on his way home after a day in New Hampshire with a few loose .22 rounds in his coat pocket! Cross that state line with ammo that might fit a handgun ... whoa!

Statistics show that firearms laws don't work, no matter how tough. Massachusetts has one of the tightest firearms laws in the nation -- the Bartley-Fox Act -- and now we're safe from illegal firearms use in this state. Right? If the toughest of the laws don't work, what on Earth makes anyone think another law is going to do the trick? Criminals, by definition, ignore and break the law. Only the good guys suffer.

As for "armor-piercing" bullets, has anyone ever read a single news story of an armor-piercing bullet being used in the commission of a crime? I don't want to see the cops getting hurt or killed, hell no, but Kerry's new campaign against AP ammunition serves no purpose. Do we really have a problem with this armor-piercing ammunition, or is the real problem in Washington?

Ahh! Senator Kerry, I suspect, is worried about his job, so he wants to jump on every hot button he can between now and election day. Gun control historically plays well to those huddled crime victims back home, and armor-piercing bullets are the scariest aspect of guns. The senator must think he's got himself a gold mine here. Not quite.

Um ... John, try these on for size:

A) Armor-piercing bullets aren't statistically a problem. Gun laws do not work, again statistically. How about a reform of the legal system, to punish the wrong-doers instead of punishing the machinery.

B) Law-abiding people are sick and tired of having their guns taken away and their options curtailed in the sacred name of crime fighting. Gun laws make good guys into the victims. Let us fight back instead!

C) The American people are fed up with federal do-gooders seeking to micro-manage their lives, upset at a government that won't trust its citizens, outraged at politicians who keep whittling away at our rights and freedoms, and we're sick of it. November elections in 1996, eh?

Better polish your resumé before the election, Senator. Your way of thinking is on the way out.

— Tackle Box —

In spite of temperatures starting at zero, and a strong wind all day, your humble narrator dipped a few lines in Crystal Lake in N. Chelmsford Sunday in the Greater Lowell Fly Fishers derby. I caught a few small fish, but nothing worth the walk to the weigh-in table. Worst of all, only one fish on the winner's board topped two pounds, so any decent fish was worth money.

First place, and $300, went to Gene Rogers of Tyngsboro for a bass that went 3.54 pounds, second went to John Martin of Chelmsford for a 1.82 bass; third went to Bill Bettencourt of Millers Falls, Mass., for a bass weighing 1.4; fourth was awarded to Steve Deschesnes of Nashua for a 1.27 bass; young Brad Lamothe from Dracut (who fished next to me) took fifth and $50 for a 1.25 bass; and $25 prizes for places sixth through tenth went to Bruce Frye of N. Reading; Dave Lefebvre of Chelmsford; Bob Cavanaugh of Billerica; Kevin Perron of Townsend; and Dave Lord of Lowell for a 1.1 pound bass. Dave was also the club member with the biggest fish, so tack an extra C-note onto Dave's $25 last place prize.

Squirt C's catch bad break

by James Pote

In the preseason, the Wilmington Squirt C Youth Hockey team lost to Tewksbury by a large score of 8-2. The next time they played them they won 1-0. Two weeks ago, Wilmington lost 7-0 and last Saturday they lost 2-1. The 1-0 game was a terrific game as was the 2-1 game.

Wilmington dominated the first period. They had many great opportunities that were all stopped by the fantastic duo of the two Tewksbury goalies.

Tewksbury took an early 1-0 lead until Matt Collins scored a beautiful goal which was set up by Chris Cappozzi and Eric Jacobs to tie it at one apiece.

Meanwhile, Wilmington's netminder Paul Sferreza, was as always saving everything in sight to keep the game tied.

With the score tied at one, Tewksbury scored their second goal half way through the final period on a bad bounce. Wilmington continued to pour on opportunity after opportunity but fell short. With thirty seconds left, Wilmington was able to get an extra skater out on the ice because they pulled the goalie, but to no avail they couldn't pull out a win or a tie.

Billy Sinopoli played unbelievable with many great shots and one terrific move around a Tewksbury defender but he wasn't able to slide the puck past the goalie after he made a great move to his left on the breakaway.

Also displaying tremendous hustle for Wilmington were forwards Chris Capozzi and Steve Pellerin as well as defensemen Mike Senarian, Steve O'Dea, Tom Anderson and Eric Jacobs.

NOVENA to ST. JUDE

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us, St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us, St. Jude, helper of the hopeless, pray for us.

Say this prayer nine times a day, by the 8th day your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. My prayers have been answered.

God bless

A Prayer to the Blessed Virgin (Never found to fail)

O Most beautiful Flower of Mount Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendour of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this my necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother.

O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart, to succour me in this necessity; there are none that can withstand your power.

O, show me herein you are my Mother. O Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to Thee. (3 times)

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands. (3 times)

PRAYER TO APPLICATION TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

"Holy Spirit who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want, in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even and in spite of all material illusions, I wish to be with you in eternal Glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine." The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor, only your initials should appear at the bottom.

They saved the best for last

by James Pote

It was the Clash of the Titans. Of what would be the last league game between the Wilmington and Tewksbury girls basketball teams, these two teams showed off great hustle and determination for a tremendous back and forth battle which was extremely physical, rowdy yet very competitive game as Wilmington walked away with a 49-47 victory.

Wilmington was up by seven points at halftime. Tewksbury went on a 6-0 run before Wilmington answered with a 9-0 run at the start of the second half. Tewksbury then counterattacked as Miriam Solimine, Christine Delle Donne and Kristin Bedard hit five out of six free throws for a 5-0 run which put the score at 44-42 in favor of Wilmington with 3:35 remaining.

Erin Falzone and Nancy Pote combined to get three freebies in for Wilmington to expand the score to 47-42 for the hometowners. Mandy DeRouche then scored two of her team high 14 points from a great pass from Holly Perrin to put the lead back at three. After Wilmington missed two free throws, Bedard tied the game up at 47 with a trey which was part of her six point performance.

With the game tied with a 1:45 left, Wilmington's Jiame Forgett gave Wilmington the lead and the win when she nailed a perimeter shot to seal the victory for Wilmington. But at the time, it was not thought, that her score would be the last. Wilmington turned the ball over twice in the closing minute and Tewksbury missed a drive to the net and another shot which gave Wilmington the final edge of the great rivalry.

"Tewksbury played very well. This game reminded me a lot of last year. But, we hung in there and played well," said WHS head coach Jim Tildsey.

Leading the way for the victors were Erin Falzone with 13 followed by Jiame Forgett's eleven, Jacqui Holloway's eight and freshman Becky Rodgers' six.

As for Tewksbury, DeRouche played excellent throughout the entire game with her 14 points. She was followed by freshman standout Christine Delle Donne's eight points, Susan Perkins' seven points and Bedard and Solimine both had six points.

TMHS wrestling keeps pace

by James Pote

The Tewksbury Memorial High School wrestling team enjoyed a very successful weekend in the Massachusetts state wrestling tournament in division two.

Rob Donovan (103) and David Shunaman (160) took home first place finishers in their respective weight classes. Jeff Parker (130), Brian Collins (135) and Mike Howell (189) all took home second place finishes.

Others who did well included: Chris Bibb (4th - 125), Shawn Donnelly (4th - 145), Ryan Donovan (5th - 140) and David Cronin (6th - heavyweight).

Bulls and Celtics offense shines as they cruise for victories

Bulls 57 Hornets 47
High scorers for the Bulls in Wilmington Recreational Basketball play were Jo Jo Bamberg with 16, Buddy Phillips with 15 and Mike Hanrahan with eleven.
High scorers for the Hornets were Jeremy Rufo with eleven, Dennis Ingram with ten and Ian Emery with eight. Mike Gargan and Nick Moroney scored big baskets for the Bulls. Jamie Hodder and Casey Murphy led a failed comeback in the second half for the Hornets.

Celtics 41 Knicks 39
The high flying Knicks were stunned by the upstart Celtics at the buzzer by the score of 41-39. With the score tied at 39-39 with four seconds remaining, the Celtics took a time out to set their play.
The ball was inbounded to the streaking Eric McBride who scored as the buzzer sounded. High scorers for the Celtics were Eric McBride with 12, Tom Heigham with six and Eric McKenna and Sean McNabb with five each.
High scorers for the Knicks were Brian Thresher with 15, Paul Tentindo with nine and Shawn Sullivan with four. Brian Shea hit a big three pointer in the second half for the Knicks to give them the lead at that point in the game.

Magic 54 Suns 53
In another great game, the Magic escaped the late surging Suns by the score of 54-53. High scorers for the Magic were Chris DiJulia with 13, Jeff Arciero with eleven and Andy Falange with ten.
High scorers for the Suns were Eric Clancy with 20, Jeff Riese with eleven and Paul Heffernan with nine. With the Magic holding a 15 point lead at the half on the fine play Dennis Morse and Bryan Mason, the outcome of the game looked bleak for the Suns.
A valiant effort by the Suns Matt Kacamburas and Chris Burns led to a final second half court shot by Eric Clancy which hit the top of the rim and bounced away from the basket securing the one point victory for the Magic.

PAC
UCLA 49 Stanford 34
High scorers for the Bruins were Caitlyn Wright with 20, Colleen Campbell with ten and Melissa Mather with eight.
High scorers for Stanford were Lindsay Bruno with 14, Meaghan Berry with eight and Alicia Paquin with six. Kim Smith and Rebecca Toto chipped in with big baskets for UCLA. Jeanne Brownell and Katie Hickey made key shots for Stanford.

Oregon 32 Washington 17
High scorers for Oregon were Catherine Normoyle with 13, Colleen Cahill with eight and Kristie Langone with eight. Kara Langone and Kristen Konieczka were awesome on the boards for Oregon.
High scorers for Washington were Julie Yentile with five, Megan Falzone and Jancee Neale with four. Kristen Cipriani and Diana Lee dug in defensively for Washington.

Atlantic 10
St. Joseph's 31 GWU 15
High scorers for St. Joseph's were Ashley Morgado with 13, Krisen Porfido with eight and Brynna Moroney with six. High scorers for GWU were Killianne Sweeney with six, Jennifer Earls with four and Vanessa Marsh with two.
Katie Riley and Megan Grenier stole the show for St. Joseph's. Stephanie Straziere and Allea Scifo made all the right moves for GWU.

URI 21 UMass 17
High scorers for URI were Stacey Comer with eight, Keri Gillespie with five and Lauren Crowley with four.
High scorers for UMass were Courtney Hassey with nine, Katie Haepers and Lianne Mahoney with three. With UMass holding a comfortable lead through three quarters of the game led by the scrappy play of Lauren Cushing and Meredith Bransfield, it seemed almost certain UMass would hold on for a victory.
The great up and down play of Shannon Gilligan and Gina Ranno in the final ten minutes of regulation got URI back into the game and secured them a victory in double overtime.

Ivy League
Yale 28 Harvard 16
High scorers for Yale were Erin Porterfield with eleven, Kimberly Gillespie with six and Sheri Thresher with four.
High scorers for Harvard were Jacqueline Rubino with five, Lisa Dineen with five and Kelly McLaughlin with four. Sarah Hayes and Katie Sullivan led the charge for Yale. Meaghan Gallant and Kimberly Nadeau played a great game for Harvard.

Dartmouth 27 Cornell 11
High scorers for Dartmouth were Tara Scola with eight, Rebecca Rufo and Kelly Gillis with five.
High scorers for Cornell were Krista Wolfe with six, Lindsey Scott and Caitlyn Bransfield with two. Christyne DeMango and Lyndsey Borsate got big baskets for Dartmouth. Jessica Morgan and Meredith McKenna were very aggressive on the defensive end for Cornell.

Leading scorers for Villanova were Brian Gillespie and Daniel Vassallo with three points apiece. Andrew Giamberardino, Greg Irving and Dan Patalano also scored key hoops for Georgetown. Christopher Wainor, Joe Lane and Steve Emery hustled on defense for Villanova.

Miami 21 Seton Hall 20
Leading scorer for Miami was "Gunner" Crawford with 15 points.
Leading scorers for Seton Hall were Derek Courtois with eight, John Cuoco with four and Alfredo Badolato with four. Derek Hanley, Steven Ciano and David Velardo scored key hoops for Miami. Zachary Mitzan, Derek Trucera and Chuckie Courtois hustled on defense for Seton Hall.

Hoop team streak stopped at 18

The Tewksbury Youth Boys Basketball seventh grade traveling team had its 18 game winning streak snapped this week at the hands of its Merrimack Valley Conference rival, Haverhill.
However, the team quickly adjusted and finished the week strongly with two solid victories over Lowell and Lynnfield.
Jay Stamp's 22 points were not enough to lead Twksbury past Haverhill. Jon Takash, Keith Hooley and Sean Thomann also had strong efforts for Tewksbury.

The team was back to its winning ways with an impressive victory over Lowell. Matt Kobelski, Ryan Schuler, Patrick Dooling and Tom Sullivan led Tewksbury to victory.
Tewksbury concluded the week with a win over Lynnfield. Roger Brasil once again led Tewksbury in scoring by netting 21 points. Donny Mulligan, Kevin Doherty and Mike McGinnis also had strong games for Tewksbury.

'IT'S VALENTINE'S DAY AGAIN'

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

"I don't remember you from television," says the little girl, in the Lynnfield Spotlighters upcoming production of "The Channel Surfers."

"I am from television long before your time but I've always been a friend and guardian of children," says Judy Valentine, in the role of Orphan Mother.

Valentine has come out of retirement for the Spotlighters' "original children's play," which will take place in Peabody this weekend and will star several starlings and starlettes from Wakefield, Lynnfield, Reading, and beyond.

Alice Johnson Hannon of Woburn is the musical director.

And Diane Powers of Wakefield is the choreographer.

"The director was very sweet," says Valentine. "He wrote a lot of little things around me."

Little things mean a lot. Try to remember black and white television, Bosco and milk, the summer replacement show "Judy and Goggles" - with Carroll - soon-to-be Big Bird - Spinney ... and Judy; Captain Kangaroo's "unrecognizable" visitors; Mother Goose, the album; and Cinderella's fairy godmother.

"I guess I was type cast," says Valentine.

Remember Bozo the Clown (a.k.a. Frank Avruch) and his companion from 1960 to 1971 - all of the above and one in the same: Lynnfield's own Judy Valentine, in the spotlight again.

Memories will be made of this.

"Television is a wonderful thing. At least it can be. Trust me. I know what I'm talking about," says Orphan Mother.

"The premise of 'The Channel Surfers' is you can't allow television to think for you - you have to think for yourself," says Valentine, ready to plug the play and players, eager to review what promises to be a dynamite musical review. "The Channel Surfers" is about children who have watched 100,000 hours of television.

They know nothing of nostalgia - not to mention Bozo - but they're really into Power Rangers, Simpsons, Looney Tunes, Mr. Rogers, and Star Trek. "After a while," says Valentine, "the kids have had enough of the 'remotatron' and their electro-magnetic adventure, and they want to return home."

"Life is mysterious and wonderful and precious no matter where you go," says "Orphan Mother," coming to the rescue with words of "kind advice," urging children to "use your head - consider a good book instead."

Living happily after channel Valentine's to S-4

Woodchips

ANTHONY MANCONI

A Super Duper salesman was trying to sell a home freezer to my Aunt Nora. His sales pitch was, "You can save enough money on your food bill to pay for the freezer." My Aunt Nora exclaimed, "Look here Sonny, I am now paying for a car to save bus fare. I'm paying for my washing machine and dryer, with the money so, PLEASE, I can't afford to 'SAVE' any more money right now!"

Popeye, Olive Oyle and Wimpy were my favorites in the comic section of the newspaper. Popeye would say, "I Yam what I Yam and that's all I Yam." Well Folks, that's a gem of an expression if I ever heard one.

There isn't any pretension, grandstanding or conceit in that statement. On the contrary, what Popeye is saying is, "Here I am, take it or leave it, warts and all!"

At a Christmas Party for the FDA Lab employees and their families (when I worked at the lab in Winchester), a woman asked Mel Letzring of Wakefield, "What do you do at the lab?" When Mel told her he was in the maintenance section, she ended the conversation right then and there.

When she got to me, she asked, "are you somebody?" "Yes," I replied. "I'm a Nuclear Physicist." "Oh-h-h," she cooed.

Tell be all about yourself. That's remarkable for such a young man.

"I'll tell the world it is," I replied, especially when I didn't even finish high school! For those who don't know, I was a carpenter then and I am now retired. Hence the Woodchips for my column.

Folks, when will some people learn that it doesn't matter nor make any difference what kind of work we do. We all can learn something from everyone. I remember Mr. Mike Mulligan, our weekly garbage collector years ago, who could quote, Jimmy Joyce, Shakespeare, Aristotle and other great poets and writers.

Woodchips to S-4

This week it's time for

'Random Acts of Kindness'

Many local people are joining forces with Volunteers of America, the national co-sponsor of: "Random Acts of Kindness Week," this week.

Volunteers of America hopes that "Kindness Week" will help to open their hearts not only to a personal sweetheart, but to the whole community. The goal is to get children, teens and parents talking about and doing "Acts of Kindness."

Sadly, there are too many young people who have learned about violence. The belief is that kindness can build on itself as much as violence. The hope and mission is that by teaching kindness, Volunteers of America can begin to silence the all too frequent voices and acts of violence.

Volunteers of America of Massachusetts is focusing its efforts sponsoring or coordinating educational events for young people by providing materials to schools, churches, temples and youth organizations.

The following is a listing of some of the activities and events Volunteers of America of Massachusetts will be sponsoring:

- Story hours during both Random Acts of Kindness week and School Vacation week in Boston and at other interested libraries.

- Sponsoring a "Make a Call For Kindness" phone cards to Acts to S-14

Malden forms Family Healthcare Associates

The Malden Hospital is pleased to announce the formation of Family Healthcare Associates, a multi-site, group practice consisting of 17 physicians, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants specializing in family care.

Family Healthcare Associates includes the following group practices which have joined together as a single entity in affiliation with The Malden Hospital: Malden Family Practice (Drs. Lyle Bohlman, Matthew Siu, and Ales Bingham); Dr. Long Nguyen; The Family Health Center (Drs. Jeanne Arnold, Peter Jeffries, Stephanie Arlis-Mayor, John Gnassi, Joseph Gravel, and Susan Spitz); and Everett Family Practice (Drs. Barry Kaye, Camilla Potter, David Shamblaw, and Robert Singer, Nurse Practitioner Kim Grennan-Graham, R.N., and Physician Assistant Lisa Archabald).

At 17 members, Family Healthcare Associates is the largest group in the state. According to Stanley W. Krygowski, President of The Malden Hospital, this affiliation is the first in a series of major steps the hospital is taking to respond pro-actively to a changing health-care environment, and embrace a vision of integrated services for enhanced patient care.

"Health-care reform has brought about dramatic changes in the delivery of care," emphasizes Mr. Krygowski. "We're already seeing shorter hospital stays, more outpatient surgery, and more care taking place in doctors' offices and people's homes. Hospitals are serving less as "sick" care providers, and more as total "health" care systems, with increasing emphasis on health education and preventive medicine.

Social Concern seeks Annual Auction items

The Council of Social concern is seeking donations of items and gift certificates for the 7th Annual Auction to raise funds for community services.

"It's the generosity of our donors that has made our past auctions so successful and exciting," said John McElhiney, co-chair of the Board of Directors' Auction Committee.

"We're asking for contributions that will help to create another special evening on behalf of people in need."

The Auction will be held on Saturday, April 1, at the Veterans Memorial Senior Center, 144 School St. in Woburn. Doors open at 6 pm for a silent and live Auction featuring hundreds of items and services that will go home with the highest bidders.

Eileen Mills, Auction Co-Chair, noted that many items have already been donated, including: a year's rental of commercial space in Woburn, La-Z-Boy chairs and sofas, piano, artwork, autographed and historical items, computer software, and many gift certificates.

Pickup of larger items is available if needed. For more information call Social Concern at 935-6495.

All Auction proceeds support Social Concern's community services: full time day care for young children from families in crisis; parenting education classes and support groups; emergency food assistance for people out of food and funds; leadership training for Hispanic's and cross-cultural education; a variety of services for elderly men and women; and information and referral to callers and visitors.

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Wakefield grapples with llama law

Hairy situation in barn by lake

The Wakefield Board of Health has voted to let a Lowell Street woman keep two llamas at her home until warmer weather, according to the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

In fact, the woman has already been issued two temporary permits and the llamas' situation is secure until July when their Boxford owners can build them a barn.

"According to current animal rules in Wakefield," reports the "Chronicle," there isn't enough land on the woman's property to allow her to keep the animals for an extended period of time."

According to people rules in Wakefield, a public hearing is necessary before any further action takes place.

Fast food hits Wilmington

Wilmington's first-ever fast-food burger chain could be open this week if all goes according to schedule on Lowell Street at the intersection of Route 129.

Burger King representatives have already promised to work closely with Wilmington High School to fill some of the 50 to 100 jobs they hope to create, and to forge an active association with the Wilmington Recreation Department.

Twenty-three-year-old Wilmington resident Bill Frey owns the franchise through his company Ajax, Inc. He also operates franchises in Danvers and East Boston through Ajax, and owns interests through two additional corporations in 10 others, including those in Burlington and Tewksbury.

Guess he deserved a break one day.

Sticky situation on town hall by court

Woburn City officials have been concerned for a while now about the birds which keep dropping - so to speak - by City Hall. Seems a favorite site was the main portico just next to the mayor's office.

It took a master Rabbitt to solve the startling problem, which he did, by dialing Bird Master, a firm based - where else? - but in a Woburn park.

Actually, the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," reports that the operation to remove the birds was a success and seen supervising the situation was the mayor, "tightlipped."

Tables turned in Woburn

Pizzeria Uno - the outdoor cafe - is open, for the most part, at the Woburn Mall, outdoor seating for 28 and all, with the blessings of Woburn Chief of Police Philip Mahoney.

Aaron Spencer, chairman and CEO of the Uno Restaurant Corporation, previously owned and operated West Woburn's Kentucky Fried Chicken franchise.

Smoke bites dust in Lynnfield

Upon the recommendation of Toni Klein, Director of the Lynnfield Tobacco Control Program and high school principal Kristine Benson, the Lynnfield Board of Selectmen has unanimously voted to post no-smoking signs at all of Lynnfield's school fields.

And Nancy lights up neighborhood

Having already traveled from Woburn to Stoneham, Olympic Silver Medalist Nancy Kerrigan is still on the move. According to records at Salem's Registry of Deeds, she has purchased 69,288 square feet of land and home in Lynnfield for $474,000.

"About The Towns" covers recent events in the 13-town Middlesex East area. Standing (l-r) are Jacqui Collins, Susan Powers, Debra Connolly, Suzanne Reno Lamson, Cathy Baranofsky, Debbie Ebeling, and Denise Gentile. Missing from photo are Chris Hechenbleikner, Cynthia Krumme, Gretchen Lewis, Susan Lippman, Mary Ellen Lynch, Elston Miles, Chery O'Leary, Nora Tiffany and Janice Weiner.

Bear Hill walk in Stoneham this Saturday

Come with Mike Doucette for a moderate hike to Bear Hill over sections of the Skyline and Reservoir trails. Meet at the Sheepfold parking lot off Route 28 in Stoneham at 1 pm for a two hour hike.

The Friends of the Middlesex Fells is a volunteer organization dedicated to the promotion, protection and preservation of the Middlesex Fells Reservation. The fells is a 2060 acre woodland and watershed area managed by the Metro Parks Division of the Metropolitan District Commission. Colonialists used the area for timber, clay and quarry rock. Spot Pond Brook provided water power to early factories and mills.

After much lobbying by citizens impressed by the natural beauty of the area, the Fells became public park land in 1894. Today, Boston-area residents can enjoy hiking and cross country skiing along well marked trails. Some loops offer as much as 6.8 miles of travel within typical eastern forest land.

For more information about this hike or other programs presented by the Friends of the Middlesex Fells, call 617-396-5118.

Woodchips

I must confess that I kept a distance from Mr. Mulligan when he spoke, especially down wind

My friend Father Dick Messina, (now at St. Mary's Church, Winchester) said to me, "Chipper, I can see one great advantage of being a priest. The Roman collar keeps your Aunt Nora from giving me Christmas neckties like the ones she gives to you."

He said to Bob, "let's get some hay and place it under the mule and then put a match to the hay, that will get the critter to move." Well, they did just that and set fire to the hay and of course the mule moved, BUT only about 10 feet then it stopped, the wagon on fire and burning completely to the ground.

Folks, can only imagine both Bob and Bill telling me recently, "Chipper you write Woodchips like you fell off the turnip wagon when you were a kid!"

Richard Hamel, of Winchester wrote to a mail order house as follows, "Please send me one of the lawn mowers shown on page 62 of your catalog. If it's any good, I'll send 'you a check'." Richie got an immediate reply saying, "Dear sir, please send 'your check' and, if it's any good we'll be happy to send you the lawn mower."

Mario DiMino of Stoneham said that he knew he had hives when he saw bees flying in and out of his nose.

I remember when Uncle John Shea complained about his Christmas presents. He said, "I didn't like any of the gifts I got. I was given presents that were, "Waterproof, Shockproof and Shrinkproof." But nobody had sense enough to give me a couple of bottles of '90 proof!"

The late Father John McDonough was stationed in the Immaculate Conception Church in Revere. He was a native of Woburn. He often told me how proud he was of his Uncle Michael McDonough and niece Julie McDonough, both on the Woburn Police Force, and nephew Sgt. John McDonough of the Mass. State Police.

I love a mystery movie but not a mystery dinner. A waiter asked me, "how did you find the steak you ordered sir?" "I wasn't any problem at all," I replied. "I just moved the potato and there it was!"

George Guyette told the waitress, "two eggs please, don't fry them a second after the white is cooked. Don't turn them over and no salt or pepper." The waitress asked, "The hen's name is Hilda, is that alright sir?"

Dennis Tully sent a note to his grandmother saying, "Dear Granny, I'm sorry that I forgot your birthday last week. It would serve me right Granny, if you forget my birthday next Saturday."

One seagull said to another seagull flying over Revere Beach, "Hey Lester, have you spotted any new cars lately?"

Bob Butler and Bill Boivin worked on a farm in New Hampshire during summer vacation from college. They had worked hard one day loading hay. However, they had quite a problem getting the mule to pull the wagon. No amount of begging, pleading, pushing or pulling would make the mule move. Bill had what he thought was a bright idea.

Valentine's Day

surfing will be the following cast members from Wakefield: Peter Carrier (Mr. Tripper and Mr. Rogers - one), Emily Preston (Miss Piggy and Oompa-Loompa - two), Amanda Smith (Von Trapp - two and six), Jillian Sokol (orphan three), and Peter Sokol (Gonzo).

Lynnfield cast members are: Matthew Buckley (Captain Picard), Meghan Buckley (Willie Wonka), Michael Buckley (Tommy Tripper), Jessica Cintolo (Scarecrow), Rebekah Cintolo (Tin Man), Amelia Confalone (Daffy Duck and Oompa Loompa - one), Elizabeth Confalone (Von Trapp - seven), Joanna Confalone (black Power Ranger), Peter Confalone (Mr. Rogers - four), Bobby Curran (Aladdin), Eric Curran (Data), Courtney Filmer (Von Trapp - four), Carolyne Gallo (Marge Simpson), and Rynne Herook (yellow Power Ranger).

Also from Lynnfield are: Jenny Salisbury (red Power Ranger), Dana Scarborough (Von Trapp boy and Mr. Rogers - five), Ryan Scarborough (Von Trapp boy and Mr. Rogers - three), Valerie Umana (Bugs Bunny and Oompa-Loompa - three), Michelle Whalen (Von Trapp - one), and Stacey Whelan (Lisa Simpson and Maria).

Lynne Gauthier from Reading, pretty in pink as a Power Ranger, cooks up a storm as a Swedish chef with chicken.

And they're only for starters. Transport your kids to the future and yourselves back in time. The Lynnfield Spotlighters original production of "The Channel Surfers," written and directed by drama teacher Paul Sedgwick and produced by Michael J. Margolis will take place on Friday and Saturday, February 17th and 18th at 7 p.m., and on the 18th at 2 p.m., in the Peabody High School auditorium. Tickets are available for a song: $7 in the evening and $5 in the afternoon. For reservations, call (617)334-2706.

"All my 'little kids' have grown up," says Valentine. "I have to live to be 100 years old to do all the things I want to do."

Those things include re-recording the Mother Goose album for which she's been getting requests for more than 20 years; maybe a little cable television; some more taking "a little bit of someone" with her - of everyone she's met and everything she's done - from a lifetime of volunteer, work and family experiences; "having fun, enjoying the creative."

And being happy; the happiness visible in the valentine stickers on envelopes she sends and audible in the instantly recognizable, lilting voice on phone calls she receives. The plans "keep me dreaming," she says, "and we all have to do that. I seem to have always just missed some really big opportunities ... I wish I'd kept in close contact with Carroll Spinney ... but when I come back, I don't want to come back as a sweet potato. Have you seen them in the supermarket? They just sit there, and they're so ugly. When I come back, I'll probably come back as the same person."

Mark your calendars now: Valentine is back, in fine form - and Valentine's day is coming up again, on Friday.

Cold weather snacking tips

Having crackers with a bowl of steaming hot soup does more than provide a taste treat --- crackers can also help meet important cold weather nutrition needs, for both children and adults.

"People need to be reminded that crackers are part of the grain food group," says registered dietitian Sherry Rougeau.

Rougeau, former staff dietitian at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D.C., and now owner of Lifestyle, a nutrition counseling practice based in Centerville, Massachusetts, says such grains as crackers, bread, cereal, rice or pasta are "high-energy" carbohydrates, and are good choices for cold weather months when energy needs are often higher.

"Our bodies have to work harder in the winter," says Rougeau. "Dashing from the house to the schoolbus, outdoor sports, shoveling snow or scraping ice, struggling along a sidewalk in the face of cold, blowing winds -- both kids and adults need more energy just to get through a winter day."

And, says Rougeau, since grains are rich in energy-providing carbohydrates, they should be part of the daily winter diet. "Parents can make their kitchens a cold weather 'snack smart' environment by making sure crunchy crackers, fig bars, assorted graham crackers, animal crackers, pretzels and breadsticks are available," says Rougeau.

A Listing of Interesting Events and Happenings

TRANSFER STUDENT COLLEGE FAIR

Merrimack College in North Andover, MA will host a Transfer Student College Fair on Tuesday, March 28 from 3-5 pm and 7-9 pm. The Fair will be held in the S. Peter Volpe Physical Education Center located on the Merrimack College Campus.

The Transfer Student College Fair is the first to be co-sponsored by the New England Association of College Admissions and the New England Transfer Association (NETA) will provide the opportunity for college students to speak with representatives from over 100 colleges and universities nationwide.

The Transfer Student College Fair will provide valuable resources to assist transfer students with the college selection process. The College Fair is open to all students and their parents, and admission is free of charge.

COAST GUARD ACADEMY INSIDE LOOK

Young men and women in their junior year in high school seeking the challenge of a service academy have an opportunity to try academy life first hand, at the Coast Guard Auxiliary's Academy Introduction Mission program (Project AIM).

Every summer, the coast guard's civilian volunteers send a select number of students to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, CT, to sample the life of a typical Fourth Classman (freshman).

The week long glimpse is made possible by Auxiliary units from any point in the United States, including Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, to any U.S. citizen enrolled in any accredited regional or state high school.

It is estimated that about 200 students will make the trip this year.

Local Coast Guard Auxiliary units will interview prospective candidates during February and March. Basic eligibility requirements are:

- 1) Between 15 & 19 years of age.
- 2) Good scholastic record preferably in upper 20% of his/her class.
- 3) Must have taken PSAT or

SAT test with combined score of 1100.

4) Must be in junior (third) year of accredited high school.

5) Strong in math and science.

6) Eyesight 20/20 or correctable to 20/20 and in general good health without any defects or handicaps.

7) Show leadership potential, and have a sincere interest in the humanitarian aims of the United States Coast Guard.

Acceptance into the AIM program does not automatically ensure admission to the Coast Guard Academy. All AIM candidates compete on an equal basis with all other applicants for admission. They must take nationwide competitive College Board exams. There are no congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

For more information contact, FSO-CC Edward LeClair, 23 Newhall St., Lowell, MA 01852; tel: (508) 458-0668.

ASSISTANCE PROGRAM FOR INCOME TAX

Taxpayers, including those whose first language is not English, will be assisted in the preparation of tax returns by students in the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) at Bunker Hill Community College in Boston. Returns will be prepared on the Charlestown campus and at several suburban locations.

For information, call Professor John Vaccaro, (617) 228-2095.

ISRAELI FOLK DANCE FESTIVAL

Boston's longest ongoing Israeli folk dance celebration, the Israel Folkdance Festival, celebrates its 19th year this year. Always a family event enjoyed by the youngest to the oldest, for the first time the Israel Folkdance Festival will be offering discounts on children's tickets. There will be hours and more; exciting music and exuberant dancing at the Israel Folkdance Festival of Boston on March 5th at 3 pm, at M.I.T.'s Kresge Auditorium, Cambridge.

Performers include Boston based groups and visiting dance troupes from the Eastern United States. Music and dance from the countries from which modern Israelis returned will be presented in colorful costumes, as will modern and traditional style Israeli folk dances. Local participants include: Sa'adya Dancers, Ruach Aviv, and Shal-hevet.

Tickets are $10 and $12 with group, child and senior discounts of $1. Additional discounts are available before February 15th. Tickets are on sale at M.I.T. Hillel, or at the door on the day of the performance. For further information call: M.I.T. at 253-2982.

QUANNAPOWITT PLAYERS

Tickets are $10 and $9 for seniors and students. For ticket information call: (617) 942-2212.

HOMEBASED BUSINESS WOMEN'S NETWORK MEETING

The Homebased Women's Network will be meeting Thursday, February 16 at 6:30 pm. at the Village Green Restaurant, Rte. One, at Danvers. This month's meeting will feature "Success Stories" by a panel of three women in business for themselves. Learn the how, why, where and when of owning a business.

HBN meets monthly and provides networking, support, information, referrals and workshops for women in business and those thinking of going into business.

Guests are welcome. For more information please contact: Gail Swanson at 617-662-9099.

STORYTELLER HIGHLIGHTS BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Highlighting Black History Month activities at Lowell National Historical Park, Boston-area storyteller Guy Peartree will offer two performances from his acclaimed repertoire entitled Stories are Telling.

On Friday, February 24 at 2pm at Pollard Memorial Library, 401 Merrimack St., Lowell, Guy Peartree will lead an hour long journey through the stories and folklore of Africa and other lands.

At 7 pm also on February 24th at the Lowell National Historical Park Visitor Center, 246 Market Street, Lowell, Peartree will portray black abolitionist Frederick Douglass. The performance recalls events from Douglass' life, including a visit to Lowell in May of 1843 to deliver an anti-slavery lecture. Both events are free of charge and are co-sponsored by the Lowell Historic Preservation Commission. Snow date: Saturday, February 25th.

FREE HUNTER EDUCATION COURSE IN TEWKSBURY

Scouting's 85th Anniversary

The Boy Scouts of America celebrate their 85th year of serving youth today. More than 90 million people have enjoyed the benefits of Scouting in the United States since its inception in 1910.

During the month of February, youth members will take part in a variety of events to rededicate themselves to the Cub Scout promise, Scout Oath and Scout Law, or the Explorer

Code in a traditional ceremony. Scouting represents the values of duty to God, to country, to others, and to self. During WWI Scouts sold more than $358 million worth of U.S. Treasury Bonds and collected peach pits and nut hulls to be used in gas masks.

During the Depression, President Franklin Roosevelt challenged Scouts to collect clothing and food items. They collected over 1.8 million items for the needy. During WWII, Scouts were asked to run recycling campaigns to help the war effort. Scouts were eventually asked to stop because government storage space was used up.

Boston area Scouting programs are committed to bring Scouting to inner-city and minority youth. Programs with the Boston Housing Authority, local churches, and city governments, have made Scouting available to thousands of local young people.

Scouting's alumni include U.S. Presidents, most U.S. astronauts, Governors and business chief executives, journalists, artists, teachers, and many more. President Ford, Astronaut Neil Armstrong, and Producer Stephen Spielberg are perhaps some of the best known Eagle Scouts - Scouting's highest rank.

Hunting and Fishing Museum now open in Boston

The McDonough Collection of Hunting, Fishing and Wildlife Management, opened its doors to the public on November 23rd in the Commonwealth Museum at Columbia Point, Boston.

Here persons can get a close up view of antique fishing equipment, wonderfully crafted decoys for hunting waterfowl, a peregrine falcon like the ones living on the Boston Customs House Tower and much, much more.

Find out about Massachusetts' pioneering efforts in protecting and managing wildlife in the early part of this century. See a heath hen and a passenger pigeon - birds which became extinct before the advent of scientific wildlife management.

Find out how wildlife populations have flourished in the Commonwealth - without using taxpayer's dollars. Use the special fishing hotline to find fishing opportunities close to home.

The McDonough collection began in 1968 as a small fish and wildlife museum in an effort to conserve the nostalgia of the hunting and fishing traditions of the past. Initially the collection was housed at the Division's field Headquarters in Westboro where it was severely limited in space. Thanks to a partnership with the Office of the Secretary of State, the museum has moved to more spacious quarters located within the Commonwealth Archives and Museum.

It is readily accessible by car (parking is convenient and free) or by T. Admission is free and museum hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays.

Annual Song of Spring Gala

The Crowned Princes of Motown, the Four Tops, will headline Boston Regional Medical Center's (formerly New England Memorial Hospital) Seventh annual Song of Spring Gala at the Weston Hotel in Boston on Saturday, April 1. The benefit evening starts at 7 pm and includes a reception, dinner and show. Proceeds will be directed toward the modernization of the critical care and surgical centers at the hospital.

Levi Stubbs, Abdul "Duke" Fakir, Renaldo "Obie" Benson and Lawrence Payton, have been together for 40 years as the Four Tops, constantly producing songs of love, happiness and romantic heartbreak in the tradition of the Detroit Sound. No other popular quartet has stayed together with original personnel intact for as long as this legendary group and they just keep on singing. Their list of Top Ten hits include "Baby I Need Your Loving," "Sugar Pie, Honeybunch," "Walk Away Rene," and "Still Waters Run Deep."

Last year over 600 people attended the Song of Spring

Gala which featured Lou Rawles. Other entertainers in past years have included Frankie Valle, Bobby Vinton, John Davidson and Roberta Flack.

Ticket and sponsorships are priced from $125 to $5,000.

THE FAMOUS FOUR TOPS will appear at the Boston Regional Medical Center's Song of Spring Gala in Boston, April 1.

Alliance for mentally ill

Eastern Middlesex Alliance for the Mentally Ill (AMI) is affiliated with National AMI and AMI of Massachusetts. Its purpose is to provide mutual support for families and friends of persons with long-term mental illness, to advocate for better services and for more funding for research into causes and cures for mental illness.

Eastern Middlesex AMI meets twice a month, on the second and fourth Mondays at 7:00 p.m. at Horizon House, 21 Water St., Wakefield. At the next meeting on Jan 23, there will be a speaker: Marci Williams, Dept. of Mental Health, Quality Improvement Director.

She will explain the Quality Improvement Program as it affects this area's programs. The meeting is open to all family members and friends of the mentally ill. Call (617) 944-6158 for more information.

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

In the Middle of ed' reform

A rose by any other name....

With state-mandated time and learning regulations "looming" on the horizon, the Winchester School Committee has unanimously voted to designate McCall Middle School an elementary school.

By way of teaching the state a lesson?

Under the new, stricter state requirements, if a school is classified as a secondary school, students must receive 990 hours of academic instruction per year. Elementary schools must offer only 900 hours. At this point, students are required to be in school for 990 or 900 hours but "in" school no longer means "at" school, a subtle change with not-so-subtle ramifications. Any learning time shortages will have to be compensated for through a longer classroom period, school day or school year.

According to Winchester Superintendent of Schools Robert Fitzgerald, McCall students now attend class approximately 945 hours per year - which put them right smack you know where - until the recent vote, a creative example of home ruling.

According to the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," School Committee members have indicated that the designation will not mean any fundamental change in the way the school operates.

departments in their fiscal 1996 budget, because of "exploding" special education costs, according to the Lynnfield "Villager."

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Richard Palermo told Selectmen there will be no "breathing room" in that budget which totals $8,592,065, a 3.2 percent increase he terms a "revised formula budget with reductions." He also presented $397,676 in prioritized unmet needs.

The first priority, though, is special education with unmet needs of $172,028, representing collaborative commitments and legal responsibilities the town must fund. Added to those are current SPED budget shortfalls recently identified and totaling $65,000 in tuition and $63,000 in transportation. Palermo's second priority of $108,469 in unmet needs at the high school would go to 2.85 teaching positions for six additional courses and an additional fulltime guidance counselor. The third priority of $38,257 would go to elementary media centers, followed by $71,923 for health and unified arts.

According to Palermo, 18 percent of the student population is served by special education. According to Selectman Kathleen Caron, that percentage is extraordinarily high in Lynnfield and throughout the state. Palermo added that Lynnfield is trying to keep costs down by hiring aides to work with students who would otherwise be sent elsewhere.

innovative and exciting "hands-on" science curriculum to Malden students, according to the "Daily News Mercury."

Teachers from the Holmes, Linden and Glenwood schools have volunteered to pilot the program in their classrooms after attending workshops made possible through two state Eisenhower Math and Science grants, including a highly competitive Demonstration and Exemplary Program grant.

Physicist S. Leslie Blatt and a team of other scientists and education researchers from Clark University and the Hiatt Center for Urban Education in Worcester as well as teachers from the Goddard School for Science and Technology, a Worcester magnet school, will run the workshops. The new curriculum materials allow students to work cooperatively in small groups on open-ended activities that encourage them to observe, experiment and think critically about natural phenomena. They are allowed and expected to develop, discuss and test new ideas, modeling true scientific methods as they learn.

According to the "News," the classroom learning environment and curriculum materials fit exceptionally well into the new national and state frameworks for teaching science, making

Malden a district leader in this aspect of ed' reform. "It's a very inclusionary approach," says Zalk, "one that can develop the high-level thinking skills of every student."

—by Rochelle Flynn— "The Quick and the Dead", Short Takes

"The Quick and the Dead" Starring Sharon Stone, Gene Hackman, Russell Crowe, Leonardo DiCaprio. Directed by Sam Raimi. Written by Simon Moore. Produced by Joshua Donen, Allen Shapiro, Patrick Markey. Rated R.

What Sam Raimi did for horror movies he has done for westerns, because "The Quick and the Dead" could have been filmed in the Twilight Zone. It's riddled with black humor, clever camera tricks, intelligent dialogue and intriguing characters. And just so you can't say no one told you, it is also very violent. As the bullets whiz past, take the time to look at how Raimi has re-invented the genre. The avenging gunslinger is a tall blonde with a glint in her eye and a chip on her shoulder. The violence is not just excessive, it is over the top. Raimi plays games with his camera so that instead of disgusting us with all the bloodshed, he makes us laugh at his cunning wit. Even the stereotypical bad guys become parodies of the Mexican dandy, the brutal convict, the dapper hired gun.

The big surprise here is Sharon Stone, who co-produced the film and, in fact, brought Raimi on board. Stone, known only as The Lady, displays more brio, and control, than you'd expect from an actress whose greatest claim to fame has been disrobing. The Lady arrives in the town of Redemption just in time for the yearly shooting contest. Herod (Gene Hackman) is the black-hearted tsar of this little town, and once a year he sponsors a contest with a big cash prize. Herod's reason for the gruesome game is strictly Machiavellian: he wants to eliminate all rivals and remain the baddest of the bad.

As the dusty main street of this odious little town is splashed with blood during hourly duels to the death, Raimi slowly reveals the personalities behind the tough facades of his gun-slingers. What makes it fun is that we only get a hint here and a clue there. Raimi often pans back to Stone for reaction shots in which her steely demeanor drops for a second or two. In one particularly impressive scene, she even weeps.

Hackman is superb as he revels in his malevolence, laughing haughtily at the people who cower around him. Russell Crowe is a unknown surprise as one of Herod's former cronies turned preacher who is dragged in chains back to town for the contest. And Leonardo DiCaprio is all flash and smiles as the The Kid, a lightning fast draw who covers up a lack of self-esteem by bragging.

This unexpected cast of characters may be worth the price of admission, but make no mistake, this is Raimi's movie. As he builds to the final showdown, it is his quirky, humorous technique that keeps us entertained and builds suspense. Happily, the script bypasses our expectations by avoiding romantic tangles and Happy Ever-After. Raimi intensifies all those surprises with his wicked inventiveness.

Short Takes

Before Sunrise is the story of two strangers on a train, Ethan Hawke and Julie Delpy, and their intense 14-hour courtship. He's an American headed back to the States, she's the Parisian he convinces to join him as he wanders the gorgeous environs of Vienna. You really have to be a fan of talking heads, as there is very little action. In fact, even the traditional parameters of a story, a beginning, middle and an end, are ignored when the course of their relationship is left intentionally, and effectively vague. Luckily, their conversation is enthralling. Rated R ***

Higher Learning is director John Singleton's ("Boyz n the Hood") version of modern campus life, complete with racism, sexism and violence. He captures the pathetic loneliness and self-conscious humor of kids trying to find their way in their first stab at adulthood. But, as the drama turns into a tragedy, he doesn't know when to let go. Gripping characterizations and heart-felt performances overcome a narrative with several distractingly weak spots, including an ending that keeps going and going and.... Rated R. ***

Dumb and Dumber is about right. Francophiles will no doubt love this flick, as it is a direct descendant of those goofy Jerry Lewis flicks we were forced to watch as children. Jim Carrey and Jeff Daniels are a couple of idiots who stumble into a kidnapping case that takes them on an extensive road trip. Despite the endless scatological humor, this movie actually has some laughs in it - embarrassing as it is to admit it. Not enough laughs to keep it afloat, however, as the script is a no-brainer and the direction too confining. Rated PG-13. * 1/2

Little Women is the definitive version of the Louisa May Alcott novel and we should all thank director Gillian Armstrong for this slice of holiday magic. Aesthetically pleasing, tightly edited, and superbly cast, it captures the feminist spirit Alcott so deftly wove into her pre-feminist era novel. Top-notch performances by Winona Ryder, Susan Sarandon, Trini Alvarado, and Kirsten Dunst are only enhanced by authentic-looking set dressings, locations and costumes. Extra praise to Armstrong for making the men (usually ignored) as appealing as the women. Rated PG. **** low-income seniors so they can speak free of charge to their families far away.

• Providing a booklet of "Stories and Quotes of Kindness" to be distributed in close to 50 churches and temples. They are also distributing Teacher's Guides of Random Acts of Kindness to 15 school systems and that number is growing.

• A Parent Activity Guide for Kindness Activities for kids.

The History of Random Acts of Kindness

What began in the early 1980s in a restaurant in Sausalito, California when a woman named Anne Herbert scrawled practice random acts of kindness and senseless acts of beauty on a piece of paper has since turned into a nationwide movement with the "Random Acts of Kindness" philosophy being passed along from family member to family member, friend to friend, and stranger to stranger. Since mid-1993 news of the best-selling book and the national movement that it helped launch has also been spread through bumper stickers, and features in newspapers and radio talk shows across the country.

In 1995 the Volunteers of America (a national social service agency founded in 1896) became the national co-sponsor with Conan Press of the "Random Acts of Kindness Week."

The Volunteers of America of Massachusetts focused their efforts by primarily sponsoring or co-ordinating educational events for young people by providing materials to schools, churches, temples and youth organizations.

Volunteers of America hopes that "Kindness Week" will help all to open their hearts not only to a personal sweetheart but to the whole community. The goal is to get children, teens and parents talking about and doing "Acts of Kindness."

Kindness can build upon itself as much as violence can.
